Seen and Heard...

By Ieryne English

MOVING TIME ... Leaving sometime this week for Corvallis will be Mrs. Roy S. Keene and Gerry ... Spec has been there since spring and Madeleine is attending Oregon State college ... The Keenes have been fortunate in finding a grand house to lease, right on the main highway across from the Beta house ... so they hope friends will stop and visit ... Mrs. Keene has been busy having her furniture reupholstered, so everything will be like new again ...

New address ... for Alden and Charlotte Adolph, who moved the past week to Burlingame, Calif. with their little girls, Shirley Ann and Mary Lee ... Al will be in the film industry in San Francisco, carrying on with the same work he has been doing in Portland ...

Busy days ... for the William J. Busicks who are getting their new summer place on Croisan Creek ready for occupancy ... Mrs. Busick hopes in the next few weeks the carpenters and decorators will be through ...

Just like new ... will be the Bryman Bouk's summer home at Seal Rock, after they finish remodeling ... they have completely redone the whole house and are now in the painting stage ...

Building time ... for the Werner Browns, who have plans for a new beach home at Neskowin, next to the Robert Herralls' with grand ocean view ... and the Brazier Smalls, who have a spacious one story house under construction in Morningside, way up on the hill ...

A BARN DANCE ... The girls really "let their hair down" for the Tillicum party at the Armory a week ago ... In pigtail tied with ribbons were Mrs. Robert Sears, Mrs. Carl Cover, Mrs. H. M. Randall, Mrs. T. Harold Tomlinson and Mrs. Leslie Burdette ... Most of the men in overalls and jeans ... darling cottons and aprons as well as jeans on the women ... The Harold Hauks, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knox and the Russell Bonesteels driving up in Russell's 1911 Studebaker, which really caused excitement ...

Pretty summer formal ... noted at the Subscription club dance ... A blue plaid cotton with white pique band on the bodice and tiny straps ... chosen by Mrs. Ronald Jones ... Mrs. P. D. Quisenberry in a white shantung gown with panier effect and gold trim ... A red and white candy stripe frock with white trim worn by Mrs. Ralph Purvine ... White combined with blue on the bodice for Mrs. George Alexander ... and a red and white striped seersucker with eyelid trim and bows selected by Mrs. Kenneth Manning ... and Mrs. Asel Eoff in white with midriff ...

FOR A BRIDE-TO-BE ... Mrs. Wallace H. Bonesteel was a charming tea hostess on Tuesday when she entertained for blonde, Cherie Raine, soon to marry Wallace, Jr. ... The honor guest wearing a straight blue net frock with jersey bodice enhanced with lustrous sequins and a gardenia in her hair ... The hostess in black, combined with white crepe and black sequins and pinned to the shoulder of her gown lovely red roses ... and daughter, Marianne, looking like a sweet high school graduate in a petal pink off the shoulder frock ...

The tea table ... attracted our eye, with a hyacinth blue satin cloth caught at the corners with a cluster of flowers ... an oblong centerpiece of blue-violet larkspur, with anemones, pale pink baby callas tied with bluish pink satin ribbon and flanked with pink tapers in crystal candleholders ... and dainty pink net napkins arranged in the center of the table ... White twin vases on the mantel filled with white mixed flowers and on an occasional table a fan shaped dish holding soft pink peony blossoms ...

Among those present ... Talking over their year's work were Mrs. Walter Kirk and Mrs. Carl W. Emmons, past presidents respectively of the University of Oregon and Oregon State mothers ... Mrs. L. V. Benson and Mrs. Ralph Campbell coming in with Mrs. A. L. Adolphson, who moved Wednesday to her home on North Summer street ... She has been at the Glendora the past year ... Mrs. Adolphson looked smart in a black and white striped suit, small white flowered chapeau ... and Mrs. John Minto wearing a becoming open crown hat of white wreathed in white flowers and green satin ribbon ... Mrs. C. W. Parker proudly wearing the orchids (four of them) her daughter, Mary, had for the Sigma Chi formal ...

A SURPRISE ... in store for Barbara Compton, daughter of the Henry Comptons, when she comes home on vacation from San Francisco ... Her mother recently redecorated her room ... All pink furniture ... the wall paper of lilacs on a pale mauve background ... The twin bedspreads of white eyelet and organdy over pink ... a pink oval mirror with rose velvet ribbon running through ... and white frothy lamps with pink velvet ribbon trim ...
