Bride Wears Victorian Gown

Brunette Luella Nichols chose an eggshell satin Victorian style gown for her marriage to Donald Gene Wilson Friday night at the First Congregational church. The gown, which had been made by a friend, was fashioned with a draped, scalloped skirt in front from which extended below to the hemline a wide flounce of lace. The skirt was hooped and the train was scalloped and gathered with fine tucking. The neckline was sweetheart style and the sleeves long. The bodice in back was trimmed with tiny buttons ending at the waistline with a flat bustle. Her fingertip length tulle veil cascaded from a lace bonnet edged in a ruffling of net. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of red and white roses. Ronald Nichols gave his sister in marriage.

It was at 8 o'clock that the Rev. Seth Huntington performed the ceremony. Miss Edith Fairham sang and Joe Brazie was at the organ. Lighting the tapers were Miss Addy Lane and Miss Wilma Dillard, who wore white net frocks and gardenia wristlets. The altar was decorated with white delphinium, snapdragons and calla lilies. Closing the aisle with white satin ribbons just before the bride, party entered were Miss Joyce Armstrong and Miss Barbara MacDuffee, whose frocks were of blue net and they also had gardenia wristlets.

Preceding the bride were Mrs. Douglas R. Baker, her sister's honor attendant, Miss Betsy Lyon and Miss Marilyn Nichols, another sister, as bridesmaids. They wore identical frocks of white silk embroidered with tiny painted roses of blue and pink. The dresses were fashioned with puffed sleeves, off-shoulder necklines, gathered bodices and bustles with a blue bow. The girls had bonnets with shoulder veils and ribbon to match their dresses. They carried muffs of the material of their frocks to which were pinned baby pink roses.

Attend the Groom
Ronald T. Dickey stood with the groom as best man and ushers were William Hudson, Harold McCauley, Edwin Armstrong and Douglas Baker.

Miss Cass A. Nichols, mother of the bride, attended the nuptials in a marine blue crepe gown with silver nailhead trim on the bodice and long, pink gloves. Her flowers were pink roses. The groom is the son of Mrs. Harvey O. Wetzig of Bremerton and Wilfred Wilson of Salem. For her son's marriage, Mrs. Wetzig chose a black skirt with white blouse fashioned with peplum, black gloves and a gardenia corsage.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception in the fireplace room. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. John A. Hain and Mrs. Russell Bonesteel. Mrs. Edwin Armstrong cut her niece's cake. Serving were the Misses Carolyn Carson, Phyllis Perres, Dona Adams, Kathleen Secord, Margaret Wood and Bettie Olson. Miss Muriel Oliver passed the guest book and Miss Jean Hain had charge of the gifts. The bride's table was covered with a hand crocheted ecru cloth sent from China with a centerpiece of sweet peas and roses.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride donned a navy blue skirt with white eyelet blouse designed with a peplum and a white three-quarter style belted coat. Her accessories were navy. Mr. Wilson and his bride will live in Bremerton.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. William H. Johnston on the birth of a son, William Anthony, Wednesday night at the Salem General hospital. The little boy, who weighed nine pounds and thirteen ounces, has an older brother, Richard Davis. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barton of The Dalles, Charles Johnston of Salem and Mrs. Louise Johnston of Portland. The great-grandmother is Mrs. Lillian Johnston of Salem.

Miss Shirley Huntington, daughter of the Hollis Huntingtons, will arrive in the capital Sunday from Washington, D.C. She is driving west. Miss Huntington has terminated her work with the American Red Cross after a year and a half of service.

Celebrating the last day of school Suzanne and Sandra Jochimsen, daughters of the Herman Jochimsens, entertained ten of their classmates at a luncheon in the garden of their Leslie street home Friday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seales were among those attending the "Ice Follies" in Portland Friday night. Also at the Follies Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Kleinke and daughter, Joan.

Wedding at Knight

The Knight Memorial church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Helen Boyce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Windsor Boyce, to Robert Jacobsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jacobsen, Sunday, June 1. The Rev. Louis E. White officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white marquisette gown with lace insets, sweetheart neckline trimmed with seed pearls. Her veil was fingertip length held in place by a tiara of pearls. She carried a white prayer book with a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Betty Vickers was maid of honor, wearing a pink net dress, carrying white carnations. Little Judy Jones was flower girl and Danny Diarmid was ring bearer. Max Ashcraft was best man and Arely Boyce usher.

Mrs. Lewis Mitchell played the wedding march and accompanied Richard Smart when he sang "Because" and "Always."

The newlyweds greeted their guests in the foyer of the church immediately after the ceremony. A reception was held in the church. Verletta Jones served the wedding cake assisted by Viola Jacobsen, both sisters of the groom.

The bride was wearing a white dress with orchid corsage when leaving for their wedding trip to the coast. They will return to Salem to make their home.

Susanna Howell Tells Troth

The engagement of Miss Susanna Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Howell, to James Gwaltney, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Gwaltney, all of Salem, is being announced. No date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Howell, a graduate this year of Salem high school, plans to attend Willamette university next fall. Her fiancé is now attending Linfield college, having served in the army air corps during the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Yohner have returned from a two weeks motor trip to the midwest. They reported a dust storm in Montana and 12 inches of snow in Nebraska.

Silverton—Mrs. J. Cal Schlador, one-time mayor of Silverton, is now president of the Detroit Women's Civic club. The club is interested in the beautification of Detroit as well as improvements in business ways. The Schladors, who still own property at Silverton, also own real estate in Detroit.
