

U.S. Fires Ten Red Suspects; Eisler Given Year, $1,000 Fine

WASHINGTON, June 27-(AP)-A crackdown on communism and persons deemed "bad risks" from the national security standpoint today cost 10 state department employes their jobs and brought jail sentences to two men.

These were the developments:

- The state department announced that in a search for disloyal employes it had summarily fired 10 persons judged "bad security risks." Their names were not disclosed but some of them had responsible jobs paying as high as $8,000 a year.
- German-born Gerhart Eisler, 51, alleged "supreme authority" of American communists, drew the maximum sentence of one year in prison and $1,000 on his conviction for contempt of congress. Released on $20,000 bail, Eisler also faces trial July 7 for alleged passport fraud.
- Italian-born Carl Aldo Marzani, 35, former state department sub-official, was sentenced to one to three years in prison on a charge of hiding communist party affiliations in getting a government job. The maximum penalty in his case would have been 110 years in prison and $110,000 fines.
- Eugene Dennis, 43, secretary of the U. S. communist party, indicated through his attorney that he will carry to the supreme court a challenge of the constitutionality of the house committee on un-American activities.

Convictions Noted

Dennis was convicted by a federal jury last night on charges of contempt of congress, growing out of his refusal to answer a subpoena from the house committee. Eisler was convicted June 10 for refusing to take the oath as a committee witness.

- Another federal court jury convicted all 16 leaders of the

'Disc' Reports Follow Plane's Leaflet Shower

"They looked more like pamphlets dropped from a plane," was the description of reported flashing disc-like objects in the sky given to The Statesman Friday by Mrs. E. E. Jones, box 572, Salem route 9.

Likelihood that locally-sighted "discs" actually were advertising leaflets was expressed Friday by Salem Airport Manager Wallace Hug who said a light plane from Albany was over this area Tuesday and Wednesday to drop circulars advertising the Albany Timber carnival.

Mrs. Jones said her attention Wednesday afternoon had been drawn to the sky as a small single-engine plane flew over her place to the south. As she watched, the woman said, she noticed small silvery objects whipping in the wind as if they had been dropped from the plane.

Thinking some pamphlets were being dropped, Mrs. Jones continued watching the objects in the sky to see where they might fall, but as she watched they disappeared as if carried by the wind to the southeast, she reported. The Jones farm is three miles south of Salem, off Liberty road.

Eagles Win Trophies at Drill Contest

Presentation of many of the $2,700 stock of trophies seen downtown for the past few days was made to deserving members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and Wings drill teams and drum and bugle corps at their competition held at Sweetland field Friday night as a regular event of the 32nd annual F.O.E. convention being held here Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Salem Aerie Past President E. E. Getman made the presentations.

Chosen earlier in the evening at the queen's selection contest, Martha DuRette's first official act as queen of the coming Salem Cherry festival was a visit with her court in open automobiles to Sweetland field where the thousands of Eagles added their congratulatory applause to the new queen.

Trophy Winners

Trophy winning drill teams for the men were Portland, first prize, Coos Bay, second, and Klamath Falls, third. For the women Coos Bay drill team was top, Medford was second and Portland third.

Drum corps trophies went to Klamath Falls for top rank (they even had rifles with their red, white and blue colonial uniforms), and to Portland for second place. Women's drum corps winners were Portland and Klamath Falls for high and runner-up honors.

Salem's junior drum corps topped a $18 score, which was announced as "very good" for a young group as this one and Coos Bay junior group won first with 72.1.

Special Applause

The crowd awarded special applause to the tiny girl of the Coos Bay group to whom the trophy presentation was made.

Individual trophies went to the two high-ranking drum majors and majorettes and to the captains of the highest graded drill teams, each of the men's and the women's groups.

Drill captains of the Coos Bay men's unit and the Portland women were awarded trophies as were number 1 majorette of the Portland team and runner-up from Klamath Falls. The Klamath Falls drum major was top in his group and Portland's was second.

Salem Crown Act

Humor was added to the evening performances with a clown act by a special group from Salem aerie and another by the Reedspout aerie, featuring the point that Reedspout is the "baby" (newest) Eagles group of the state. A mixed Salem drill team also performed.

Older Boys' Camp Calendar Crowded

With overnight hike, picnic, swimming competition and field events crowding the camp calendar at week's end, the 100 campers at the Salem YMCA's older boys' camping session at the Silver Creek Falls campsite neared end of their first week in camp.

Earlier in the week several camp leaders entertained the group with campfire stories, including Paul Morgan of Washington State college, recently with the navy in Japan; Robert Bennett, Willamette university student who spoke on radar; Don Yocom of Willamette who told of former YM camps; Chet Goodman of the local YM staff who described a two-day bicycle trip in West Africa; and Robert Charleton of Old Oregon.

Ford Institutes Pension Plan

DETROIT, June 27-(AP)-The Ford Motor Co., which pioneered the check-off system of dues collection in the automobile industry, today became the first car manufacturer to agree to an old-age retirement plan for its production workers.

Nearing the end of almost two months of contract negotiations, the Ford management and the CIO United Automobile Workers' union announced agreement had been reached for the setting up of a pension program and a straight seven cents an hour wage increase for some 110,000 production workers.

Richard T. Leonard, UAW-CIO Ford director, asserted the pension plan will cost the Ford company $200,000,000 the first year, and $15,000,000 for each year thereafter.

Oil Clings to Strong Trend

NEW YORK, June 27-(AP)-Selective strength persisted for oils, some at new high for the year, as well as special stocks in today's market, although many customers trimmed accounts because of continued pessimism over labor situations.

The Associated Press 60-stock average emerged up .1 of a point at 64.1. The market was the narrowest since June 17. Of 896 issues registering, 357 rose and 338 declined.

Touching peaks for 1947 although finishing under the best were Standard Oil of Cal., up 2% at 59%, Shamrock Oil 1/4 at 26% and Texas Pacific Coal & Oil 1/4 at 33 1/2. Highs for the move were also established for Northern Natural Gas, up 2 at 55 on a split proposal; Houston Light 1 1/2 at 45 and American Hide & Leather 1/4 at 8 1/2.

CIO Opposes General Strike

WASHINGTON, June 27-(AP)-The CIO leadership today rejected an idea of a general protest strike against the Taft-Hartley labor act and instead invited leaders of the AFL and the railroad unions to join with it in fighting the law in the courts and at the polls.

CIO President Philip Murray added his comment to that of President William Green of the AFL, who yesterday announced AFL opposition to a general strike.
