Wishful thinking: That Villager Bill Bevens, plagued by an ailing arm, suddenly shakes it and blossoms as the fierce Yankee pitcher he was a season ago. What with the MacPhails galloping off with the Americ chase the way 'tis, should Bev suddenly get going they'd breeze to the pennant. Last we heard, Bill was getting arm shots in the hope they would straighten him Seattle bobs hp with Oregon's Hal Salizman - - another miss for the Portland Bevos. Not that Portland wasn't trying to land Saltzman - - she was merely outbid by the Sicks . Larson Grabs 'Cycle First

2000 Watch 2-Wheel Racing Program

Red-helmeted Walt Larson of Portland, piloting an Englishmade BSA motorcycle, and a hot one, yesterday rode off with the top prize in the Capital postsponsored 'cycle racing program at the fairgrounds as 2000 fans watched the first such speed carnival in Salem in years. Larson beat out the veteran Red Rice of Portland and Ray Hyland of Eugene in the 20-lap main event.

Class B main event honors went to Mort Becker of Portland, with Harry Nelson of Portland second and Jim Garber of Oregon City third. Larson had earlier copped the second heat race for experts and was trailed in this one by Rice. The veteran Doug Rambo of Portland was far out in front of his field in the first heat race but developed motor trouble and was forced to suspend operations for the balance of the day. Casey Jones of Eugene won the first heat and was trailed by Hyland.

The three-lap helmet dash was speared by Rambo over Hyland and Rice, those three having posted the best times in qualifying runs. The 'cycles managed to tour the Lone Oak oval near the 30second mark, approximately as fast as do the hot rods.

Only one spill took place in the meet, and it wasn't a bad one. Vancouver, B. C.'s Trevor Deeley was dumped rounding the first turn but was only shaken up. In a special match race Larson nosed out Rice by inches after three laps.

Just when it looked like the every-fourth-day wear and tear on the Boston Brave pitching staff might be too much for Warren Spahn, Johnny Sain, and Red Barrett, who just about completed the corps, the Beantowners picked up Bill Voiselle from the Giants. and the big fellow may have a lot to say about who wins the National loop pennant.

Saturday Voiselle tossed a sixhitter at the Brooklyn Dodgers and knocked the Burns out of first place as the Braves won't 4 to 1. It was Voiselle's second straight win in Boston uniform.

The New York Giants stayed in the thick of the senior circuit scrap by whitewashing Philadelphia 4 to 0. Clint Hartung hurled the shutout, his fifth win and John Mize socked homer number 23 to make it 16 games in a row the New Yorkers have had at least one

Senators Bow, 6-3, Finish Series with Chiefs Tonight

Locals Cling To 3rd Place

Seedy Pitching Costs Locals Race Ground

By Al Lightner Any magic the Senators hold here at home against their WIL enemies seems to be purely nil with Buddy Ryan's Wenatchee Chiefs this trip. For last night the Salems blew their second straight to the visitors, 6 to 3. and therein set a record. No WI nine had before been able to kayo the townies twice in succession this semester. and Salem's still sparkling home mark read 26 won and nine lost. The series comes to a close tonight with a seven e'clock doubleheader. Lefty Kenny Wyatt is booked to hurl one of the frays for Jack Wilson's crew, and the skipper himself may be forced to fill in the other. mighty rough on six-man staffs. Vivalda The locals weren't at their best in yielding last night's struggle, Anderson Wild but they weren't alone. The gents wearing Prexy Bob Abel's blue - - Messrs. Day and Slavich - - had a bad night all by themselves, and it was indeed a bad one. Tie fortunate for them the pop comes in cups these nights, as the 1494 gathering was in a nasty mood, inflicted by repeatedly rotten calls against both sides by the non-hustling arbiters. Day captained the exhibition by lousing up a strike on Joe Skeber in the fifth inning and then chasing him when Joe offered the squawk he had coming. The ultimate result had a catcher playing third base for Salem and a disrupted ball game of the species fans don't care to pay to see. Dick Sinovic's wildness cost him the bail game earty. He walked one and gave up two singles for two runs in the second and then in the third walked the bases full and yielded another two-run single. That brought in Hunk Anderson who had burled only the night before, and Hunk, not nearly as wild as he has been, went the rest of the way in good shape. The Ryans did bring in two runs off Anderson, but both were charged against his infield, not Spectacled Joe Vivalda of the Chiefs spent most of the session soft-tossing the Senators into popping up or lining out, but had the necessary equipment in the pinches. He was banged for 11hits along the way but only in w the fifth, sixth and ninth were the townies able to nail him for runs. In the fifth Anderson's double to left and Al Spaeter's ensuing solo were worth the first run. Beb Moore's double, a wild pitch and Ed Barr's line fly to deep left got another in the sixth.

Salem opened up her half of the ninth as if the six Chief tallies weren't going to be enough when Barr and Peterson singled and Bill Beard walked to load the sacks. But Mel Nunes, batting for Anderson, rapped a short ground-er right at Clyde Haskell at short and this worthy turned it into a double play erasing the threat with but one run scored.

The Chiefs collected but eight hits evenly divided off Sinovic and Anderson, but two, worth four runs, came after the damaging free tickets issued by Freshman Dick. How those walks can hurt. Although the less cost the townies valuable ground in the flag chase - Spokane and Bremerton both won - it failed to knock them from third place. They now rest two precentage points ahead of Victoria.

An Oregon pro-amateur golf gigantic, one of a few held annually in various cities in the state, will take place Monday at Salem golf course. Club Pro Jim Russell, who leaves soon to take over his new chores at Coos Bay, has arranged for a number of the top professionals in the state to appear in the 18-hole links play. Emery and Al Zimmerman and Ted Longworth of Portland and the noted Chuck Congdon of Tacoma will be among the many parshattering visitors. Many local amateurs, including Walt Cline, jr., Jack Russell, Leo Estey, Glen Lengren and other SGC notables, will be teamed up with the pros as all go for the valuable prizes arranged by Jim Russell.
