

Learn to Swim Campaign to Start Monday

All is in readiness today for the annual "learn to swim" program to open here Monday morning under auspices of the American Red Cross and the city and school playgrounds system.

The course continues until July 25, every day except Saturdays and Sundays.

Staff for the two pools includes Suzanne Small, Cole Stevens, Wilfred Logan at Leslie; Dorothy Salstrom, Bob Medley, Janet Rogers, Alvin Dahlen at Olinger.

Under supervision of Vern Gilmore, director of playgrounds and water safety chairman for the local Red Cross chapter, the instruction will be for boy and girl beginners, older girls and women, intermediate girls and boys, life-saving swimmers, adults, and those wishing to improve their swimming.

Gilmore has asked all junior and senior life savers who can give the time to volunteer their services to assist with the swim program.

Audio-Visual Aid Lectures, Displays This Week at WU

The newest methods and resources in preparing and using audio-visual education, designed to supplement and not replace good teaching, are to be demonstrated at Willamette university this week by Dr. Charles W. McLaughlin, head of the audio-visual aids department of Detroit, Mich., public schools.

School teachers in the state have been invited by Willamette to participate in the week's lectures in room 204 of Waller hall, daily at 2 p.m. Dr. McLaughlin said he would welcome the chance to show anyone interested his equipment and its purposes.

Spending his summer in Oregon to photograph its scenic wonders and its vacationland features, McLaughlin has 15,000 feet of 16 mm film. With Mrs. McLaughlin, a science teacher, he has spent recent weeks in eastern Oregon.
