of a wing on the south side of the old high school building. It is to be of brick veneer and will provide five class rooms and office space. When the union high school district was formed, Lebanon contributed its high school plant. A bond issue was voted to modernize and enlarge the old buildings.

First project undertaken was the new heating system. Now the board is turning to the next problem which is that of adequate classrooms. Bids are for a wing on the south side this year. That will be followed by a similar wing on the north side. The new heating system will leave more room in the basement. This will be made into a cafeteria. Quonset huts are being set up to care for the additional classes while the new wing is built.

What goes on in a manhole?

Come on down ... and see where your voice goes as it flashes across town in a telephone call. For in most places now a major part of the voice arteries you use are underground ... in a huge network of cables some of which are nearly three inches across and may carry up to 4242 individual wires.

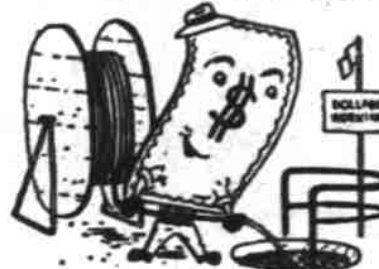

Manholes are used to install cable and to facilitate repairs. The exact location of a break or defect can be spotted quickly with a device known as a Wheatstone Bridge. The "Men Working" signs you see usually mean that skilled technicians are splicing cable ... to keep your calls going through.

They're busy places, these manholes. Last year alone we installed hundreds of miles of underground cable containing more than half a million miles of individual wires. And this is just part of what we are doing to meet the West's tremendous growth and bring service to all who want it.

New Working Dollars ... Millions of new dollars needed to build buildings and buy new equipment to meet the public demand for more telephones and more service do not come from telephone bills. New dollars come from people who are willing to put their savings into the business. We must earn enough to attract these new working dollars.

Uncle Henry swore his first car would be his last. For creeping oil that scampers from hot cylinder walls let them wear so badly it cost a mint to run. "RPM" would have made it an oil-miser because it's compounded to cling to engine hot spots and minimize wear.

Uncle Henry weakened again in 1922 and bought a Lexington. But he went back to trolleys when internal rust ruined its engine. "RPM" is compounded to rust-proof motors and stop this cause of 80% of engine wear.

Uncle Henry's third time was a charm. For now he uses RPM Motor Oil and its added compounds stop engine troubles five ways: 1. They reduce carbon. 2. Guard engine hot spots. 3. End bearing corrosion. 4. Rust-proof his engine. 5. Stop crankcase foaming. Keep your car young, too, with premium-quality "RPM."
