

Maple Named Indian Mentor

Howard Maple, former Willamette basketball coach and also ex-Oregon State freshman mentor, has been signed to coach the Portland Indians of the Pacific Coast Professional league next season. It was announced yesterday by Club President Otis W. Anderson.

Maple, now operator of a local sports goods store, will have under his guidance as Indian pilot such luminaries as John Mandic, Slim Wintermute, Don Durdan, Bill Taitt, etc., all former Oregon and Oregon State stars. He will continue his business here.

ELKS McELROY'S VIE M Spt BEND, Aug. 2.—(AP)—The Bend Elks and McElroy's of Portland will clash here next Sunday for the championship of the state baseball league.

Woodburn, Darigold Cop Wins In Second Round Legion Meet

One of many gents who lends a hearty eye-aye to the "Jack Wilson Night" is L. E. Gregory, sports editor of The Oregonian. We quote in part a letter received from Greg, who has known Black Jack as boy and man, and shortstop for the famous "Oregonian Orioles," that mighty 3-years-undefeated baseball nine on which Greg himself leads the way as pitcher: "Ticked to death about 'Jack Wilson Night.' What really pleases me is that you are finally giving recognition to the shortstop of the Orioles. We discovered him a long while before Salem did. It's simply understood that the LEAL purpose of the gathering is to pay overdue honor to the top Oriole. Aside from that I'm sure glad other people have discovered what I have known for many years—that Jack Wilson is one of our kind of people. We had even bigger ideas for him than manager of Salem, which is no insult to Salem, either. The tough thing was to get him back into the organization (Portland Beavers), which has now been accomplished. They have seen for themselves what a grand guy he is. Remember our Orioles vs. Salem game of last year? Well, playing in our Class X league (with due apologies to all concerned), this bird Wilson hustled so hard that he had one big 'strawberry' from his hip down his thigh from sliding. How could we help but be for a guy like that? The 'night' is wonderful, but don't spoil the man. There's still that Oriole shortstop hole to keep filled, you know!"

HUB KITTLE

Confusing, but not amusing: Johnny Lewis' Aero club Legion team of Portland won 19 and lost but once during the regular season, but came the playoffs and the Aeros dropped two games to the Darigolds, a team the Aeros whipped three times previously! Another example of those "Shaughnessy" style playoffs for you...

Midgets are Coming—Look Out for Heath

When the midgets begin their Hollywood Bowl excursions—and that won't be long now, for paving of the road and track will be completed this week—keep an eye on a Tacoma driver named Allen Heath. This devil-may-care gent, who either goes over 'em or through 'em if he can't get around 'em, is top pilot at Portland and Spokane, midget racing hotbed. Heath is a wreckless, smash-bang maniac when at the controls of his buzz-buggy, we're told, and r'her drivers are having a woeful time in not only trying to beat the guy to the tape but in trying to keep him from splattering them all over the quarter-mile tracks.

Speaking of the midgets, do you know that the shortest man in the country is in the circuit in the country? Th true. In the east, middle west and southern California the racers won the patrons when they tour the quarter-mile in 20 seconds. But in the northwest the heater-skeller boys fight with the 15-second level regularly. Which is the reason why almost all northwest drivers are barred from the California oval.

Hub Finally Wins One

Headline: "PCL Aims for Major Loop Rank in 5 Years—Rowland." We hope we're around the day the Portland Beavers pay some of the acer $50,000 and their top player $40,000. We'll sure apologize to the Beavers, that is...

Portlands Eye Title Tonight

H-River Ousted; 1st Game at 5 p.m. Today

Darigold Creamers of Portland, although in a generous mood last night, and in their particular game with Albany not the best defensive team in the tournament, kept on marching toward the 1947 State American Legion junior baseball championship by downing the Linn county crew, 10 to 8, after Woodburn had eliminated Hood River with a 3-0 shutout in the second round of the Waters field conclave. The Arba Ager coached Portlands, needing but one more win for the title, take a blow tonight at five o'clock when Albany and Woodburn collide for the right to tackle the 'Golds in an eight o'clock game. The first game was moved up from seven o'clock so that the second contest, starting at eight, might be over by midnight.

Should the winner of tonight's opener come through in the second game with a nod over the Darigolds, a title-deciding clash will be played Monday night at eight o'clock. Tournament Director Ira Pilcher of Capital Post No. 9 has announced. Such a game is unlikely, however, for the 'Golds have their ace lefthander Don White fresh and ready to go in tonight's second stint, while both the Albany and Woodburn clubs have taken their best pitching shots and still must play each other in the opener tonight.

Right-handed Harley Piper of Pete DeGuire's Woodburns unfurled one of the best pitched games of the meet in blanking the Hood Rivers with two scratch hits. Piper, using a good fast ball and a wide-breaking curve whiffed 16 H-Rivers, tops for the tourney. He walked three and never was in serious trouble.

Woodburn got a run in the first inning, driven in with a long fly by Eddie Kahut, and two more in the fourth on a double by Dale Yuraneck, a single by Piper himself and Bob Dahl's double.

The second game was one for the books. Albany got but three hits off 'Gold Pitcher Ken Jensen, but the Movers found themselves coming up with runs all over the big arena as the Portlands kicked in with no less than 12 errors. Jensen fanned 10 to help haul himself out of most of the bad holes his mates got him in. Albany romped in five unanswered runs in the fifth when the 'Golds must have set some sort of a record by making six errors in the heat.

Darigold chased Albany Starter Junior Simons in the fourth with a six-run blast, on five hits, but the Albany fifth tied the score at 8-8. In the bottom of the sixth, however, Ralph Krafe singled, Jensen clouted a long triple to right-center and Dave Powell squeezed a run in. The Portlands won the two runs which won the game for the Portlands. Darigold rapped eight hits off two Mover flingers, and for other than the 12 boots still looked like the classiest outfit in the playoffs.

Mossor Hurls Locals within Game of Tars; Victoria Here Tuesday

BREMERTON, Aug. 2.—(Special)—Salem's Senators gained a full game on both the western international league leaders here tonight as they crashed through with five runs in the 12th inning to whip the second-place Bremerton Bluejackets, 8-3. The win jumped the Solons within one game of the Brems and 2 1/2 games of the front-running Spokane Indians who lost to Victoria.

Lefty Wandell Mossor went the full route for Jack Wilson's crew, permitting but eight hits as he racked up his 15th pitching victory of the year against six losses. In addition Mossor's double accounted for the deciding run in the 12th-inning uprising.

The Solons opened with three tallies in the third off Joe Sullivan but from that point on the Jacket ace was hurling tight until he left the fray in the 10th after being hit by a line drive. The Tars registered their initial counter in the fifth via Ed Murphy's homer and got their final pair in the eighth. It was goose eggs for both clubs until the 12th when Ed Barr singled off Pete Barisoff and scored on Mossor's money blow. Four more Salem runs trickled over as Spaeter, Kubiak and Nunes followed up with one-basers. The teams close out the series with a Sunday doubleheader.

Tuesday night the Solons return to Waters park where they meet Victoria's Athletics in the opener of a three-game series. Tacoma arrives Friday for a four-game stand.

Rookie's 3-Hitter Stops Tribe, 3-0; Cubs Lash Bums; Cards Win

If any doubt remained about the outcome of the National league race even existed today over the eventual winner of the American loop marathon. The New York Yankees, looking more formidable every day, upped their pace-setting margin to 12 1/2 games yesterday with a double win over the Cleveland Indians, 3-2 in 14 innings and 3-0 in seven. Rookie Victor Raschi captured his fifth straight in the nightcap as he let the Tribe down with three hits, the tilt being called because of darkness after seven and a half frames.

Neither Bob Feller nor Bobo Newsum, who started the opener, were around at the finish. Feller went 12 innings but was not credited with the win. Ted Williams' 24th homer of the year gave the Boston Red Sox a 2-1 decision over the Detroit Tigers. Philadelphia trimmed St. Louis, 8-5, while Chicago's White Sox dropped the Washington Senators, 13-1.

In the National circuit the Chicago Cubs grabbed their second in a row from the top-rung Brooklyn Dodgers as they slammed 17 hits for a 12-7 nod. Peanuts Lowrey paced the Bruins with a homer, two doubles and a pair of singles. The St. Louis Cardinals pulled within eight games of the Bums by beating the Philadelphia Phils, 4-3, on Ron Northey's homer. Cincinnati took Boston, 7-6, and the New York Giants split two with the Pittsburgh Pirates, nabbing the first, 10-2, and losing 5-4.
