

Amerk, Aussie Cup Squads Ready

NEW YORK, Aug. 20 (AP)—Australia, which absorbed a 5 to 0 beating at Melbourne last December, made only one change in the Davis cup team it named today to oppose the same quartet of U. S. players in the challenge round at Forest Hills Aug. 30 to Sept. 1.

Colin Long, little known until a year ago, was named to the Aussie team to replace the veteran Adrian Quist, who didn't make the trip to Europe or Canada. Long, a specialist in doubles play, probably will pair with John Bromwich in that vital phase of the competition. Other Australians picked are Denny Fails and Geoff Brown.

The American team is made up of Jack Kramer, currently No. 1 in world amateur tennis ratings; Ted Schroeder, who turned in a spectacular singles triumph as the U. S. regained the cup last December; Frankie Parker and Gardner Mulloy. Kramer and Schroeder are almost definite choices to play the four singles encounters while the doubles team, which need not be named until 24 hours before it plays, may be either Kramer and Schroeder or Parker and Mulloy.

The Hollywood Bowl premises north of town have been undergoing a first-rate manuevering lately, making ready for the midget auto racing inaugural tomorrow night. A $10,000 track paving job and the building of the 3000-plus capacity grand stand, pictured above, kept the workmen busy. Racing men opine the quarter-mile oval will be the fastest on the Pacific coast. (Don Dill photo, The Statesman.)

Scrappy Cards Tip Brook Crew Again!

12-Inning Duel Won on Kurowski's Homer, Bum Margin Now 4 1/2 Games

A fighting mad gang of St. Louis Cardinals pulled the Brooklyn Dodgers' National league lead down another game and squared the teams' current series as Whitey Kurowski poked a homer in the 12th inning to give the Red Birds a 3-2 win. It was an uphill fight for the Cards all the way as Ralph Branca held them hitless until the eighth inning. Eddie Dyer's crew falled twice in the ninth to knot the tilt after the Brooks had earlier scored single runs in the third and eighth. The loss dropped the Bums' margin to 4 1/2 games. Johnny Mize hammered homers No. 37 and 38 as the New York Giants split two with Cincinnati, taking the first game, 10-3 and dropping the second, 3-2. Pittsburgh beat the Boston Braves, 16-10, and the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phils battled to a 1-1 tie in a game called at the end of the sixth because of rain.

Solons Split Final Pair, Still Cling to Third Place

Rollin' Along

By JERRY STONE

Pickups from the Portland Open last weekend: General comment from the galleries was that George Payton, the newcomer from Virginia who is 24 but looks about 19, is gonna be the linkster to beat in a few years. Payton, tall and razor-thin and with a cuteness that is right down the bobbysoxers' alley, is sharp on all his shots and he's cool under pressure. . . . Chuck Congdon, the Tacoma swatter, whose previous glory had been confined to the links trails of the Northwest wasn't sure of that $2000 first money until he sank a 12-foot putt on the 17th Sunday. . . . Chuck, whose putting, incidentally, was as hot as fritters on the fire throughout the tourney, was as silent as the Sphinx and as expressionless as Joe Louis over that first 16. But when that putt dribbled in the Tacoma man must have known it was the clincher for his mouth relaxed in a broad and beaming grin. . . . Ben Hogan wasn't the grim and machine-like guy of a year ago when he captured the PGA. As he started on the final round Sunday, Ben was too far back to have much hopes of catching Congdon, Johnny Palmer, etc., so there wasn't much pressure on 'im. And, actually, he gained the impression that Hogan enjoyed the let-up on his nerves — even though $2000 is very nice pocket dough. . . . Most noticeably off in Ben's game were his iron efforts. He wasn't pin-pointing 'em as in the '45 and '46 meets at Portland when a two-putt for him was indeed news. . . . Good sport: Lou Worsham. He said, after Lou grabbed the National Open from Sammy Snead by interrupting a Snead putt with a measurement request, that Worsham was either guilty of poor sportsmanship or else was a d— good disciple of psychology. It must have been the latter for Worsham had devilish luck Sunday, rimming the cup time and again and poking one in a creek. Yet he always came up smiling. . . . Big Jim Ferrier, who is plodding and uncommunicative on the links, didn't make himself anymore popular with certain spectators when he insisted on belting practice balls after the gallery had intruded on the practice range while following Hogan. Ferrier told 'em to move and when they didn't he was smacking screechers barely above their heads. Needless to say he was the recipient of some uncomplimentary remarks. . . . And Bob Hudson, the genial and effusive tourney sponsor, must have made some ears burn in the radio department when, in his enthusiasm, he gave with a couple of strong expletives over the air during the prize presentations. . . .

Club Hits Road For Final Trip

By AL LIGHTNER

The town Senators and Yakima's certainly unpredictable Stars again divided their twin offering at Waters park last night, this time Salem taking the opener on Hunk Anderson's five-hit flinging and Eddie Barr's game-winning single in the seventh, 4 to 3, and the Yaks nabbing the totally exasperating nightcap, 4-1. Net results: Salem still in third place, thanks to Vancouver's win over Victoria, and but two games out of second and 2 1/2 out of first. Victoria is three percentage points below the J. Wilsons.

How the townies keep on clinging to their precarious first division berth actually amounts to one of the modern baseball miracles. With the other strengthened upper division clubs hotter than Roy Rogers' pistol and Salem, playing punchless baseball and badly in need of help but not getting it, it amounts to at least a miracle. The big test comes within the next 10 days as the club opens its last road stand of the season, starting tonight in Yakima. From there it's to Spokane and then to Wenatchee before coming home to end the campaign. If the gang can hold its own on the road it still will have a chance at that flag in spite of the obstacles, for the final 13 games, 10 with Spokane and Bremerton, are ticketed for the friendly premises of the home yard.

Anderson had some pitching to do in the opener, but he did it when it was needed and came out with his ninth victory. Were it not for a walk and then Spencer Harris' homer for two runs in the fifth Hunk would have breezed in. Locked at 3-3 with Keith Simon in the final frame Anderson emerged winner when Simon walked Al Spaeter to open the frame, and then gave up a ground single to center to Barr after Spaeter had moved to second on Lou Kubiak's sacrifice.

The Solons could have built themselves a cushion to take with them on the road in the second game had they won it, but went entirely berserk and left no less than an almost unbelievable 17 potential runs stranded on the bases! Yakima got to Kenny Wyatt for an unearned run in the second, but all the Solons could retaliate with was a single counter on three hits and a walk in the third inning.

Knuckle-ball tossing Frank Knowles, in for Fritz Romple in the fourth inning, was in trouble in every frame but hurled his way out in just as many. Salem lifted eight hits and were given 11 bases on balls to go with them, but one could produce in the clutch. It was at least one man, and mostly two or three left on base every inning in this dreary drawn out mess.

'Macs' Earn Ticket to State Softy Show

McMINNVILLE, Aug. 20 (Special)—A scrappy gang representing Colan's Furniture of McMinnville captured the district five title and a ticket to the state softball tourney at Corvallis Sunday as they nosed an equally hard-fighting Salem Warner Motors crew, 3-2, here tonight. The game was the third of a two-out-of-three set.

Pitcher Keith Marshall—hurling his 3d game in three nights—was the big man on the "Mac" club tonight as he's been all through the playoff series. He threw a six-hit job at the Salems and kept the Cohns in the game with a two-run homer in the third off Percy Crofoot. Crofoot himself permitted the "Macs" but five blows and the winner off him in the 6th was unearned. That gold-laden tally came as Currier walked, stole second, moved to third on an infield out, and scored as Warner Third-sacker Bud Nelson uncorked a wild throw on a play at first.

The two Warner tallies came in the second frame via three errors and singles by Dick Mase, Nelson and Dan Morley. Morley paced the Motor attack with three blows.

Indians Regain Leading Slot

By the Associated Press

The Spokane Indians once more climbed back to the top of the Western International league standings last night as they earned a 2-1 triumph in 12 innings over the suddenly tough Wenatchee Chiefs. The win pulled the Indians one-half game above the Bremerton Stars, erstwhile leaders, who bowed to the Tacoma Tigers, 7-5, in 11 innings. The Vancouver Capilano got back in the win groove by beating the Victoria Athletics, 12-7, with the aid of a 16-hit attack. Vic Mastro hammered for a homer, triple and double for the Vics.

Spokane's winning counter in the 12th came on two walks and George Bufflap's single.

Oval Mark Due Friday

Since Friday night's midget racing meet at Salem's Hollywood Bowl will be the all-time inaugural for the newly-built and paved quarter-mile oval, all winning times will go into the books as track records. And there has been considerable talk among racing men and Promoter Jimmie Ryan as to just what the single-lap record will be. The Salem oval, in the eyes of the midget pilots and Ryan, "should be the fastest track on the Coast." Consequently, the roaring runs are expected to maneuver the 30-foot wide runway and sharply banked turns in well under the 20-second mark, which has been standard time for midgets on other tracks in the Northwest.

Goodman New Frosh Coach

Mary Goodman, little All-American football end with Willamette university's football team last season and more recently a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers professional team has been signed by WU as freshman athletic coach, President Dr. G. Herbert Smith announced yesterday. The appointment of the Coquille, Ore., all-around athlete was approved by the board.

No longer with the Brooklyn team, Goodman will assume duties with the coming football season. He will boss frosh football, basketball and spring sports and joins Jerry Lillie and Johnny Lewis on the major sports coaching staff. Goodman also will work on his master's degree at WU. Bunny Bennett bossed the WU frosh gridders last season.

Milkers Down Shrock Nine

The top-rung Mayflower Milks of the Junior A baseball league flung back the challenge of the Shrocks last night at Leslie with a 6-2 win over the Motormen in a tilt called at the end of the fourth inning because of darkness. A Shrock victory would have tied the two teams in the front position. Curly's Dairy also lost a chance to gain as it bowed to the last-place Eagles in a close one, 2-1, at Olinger.

Jim Rock dished out a two-hit job for the Mayflowers — both blows being by Daryl Girod. Meanwhile the Milkers rapped over six runs in the initial two frames off Norton to ice the fray.
