Hop Pickers Still Needed

Hop pickers, with or without transportation, are still urgently needed at the local farm labor office according to Mrs. Gladys Turnbull, farm labor assistant. Mrs. Turnbull stated that nearly anyone can make good money in the hop yards now, where 4 to 5 cents a pound is being paid for picking.
 Peaches are nearly all harvested, she said, and picking will be maintained with crews already assigned. The bean crop, too, is on its final round, though a few requests have been received for bean pickers.

Until he studied up on "RPM" Professor Dingle always missed opening day

First day of school in 1913 found the Professor stalled in the Sierras with his Krit all choked with sludge. "RPM" would have kept it clean and powerful, for "RPM's" compounds fight heat and air, the chief causes of sludge.

Now Professor Dingle is at the head of his class on opening day. For his RPM Motor Oil prevents car troubles ordinary oils couldn't stop. Its added compounds remove carbon and sludge, guard engine hot spots, prevent internal engine rust, bearing corrosion and crankcase foaming troubles.
