

Second Pack Strawberries Is Scheduled

STAYTON—The Stayton Canning Company Cooperative is planning to make a second pack of strawberries since many growers find they have a second crop due to the heavy rains. The canners have offered to take the berries and work them up, and many growers are looking for pickers.

This is the first time the canners have ever made a second pack, although on occasion, growers have had second crops which were not sufficient for a second pack.

Strawberry pack this year was estimated at about 70 per cent of normal.

The bean season is practically over. F. M. Smith, manager of the company, reports, September 10 will wind up the season, with the last week very light, Smith said.
