Mrs. A. A. Katt 3340 N. E. 20th PORTLAND, ORE.

Says—"My electric appliances give me lots more time to sew..."

... And sewing electrically makes it easier to make my own clothes," says Mrs. A. A. Katt, Portland housewife. "It's amazing what electrical appliances do to the life of a housewife—my cooking gets done faster, my washing is hung out sooner, my house cleaning is made easier. All my appliances work tirelessly to save me more time for leisure. "The kind of leisure they afford me saves money too," reveals Mrs. Katt, "because I use part of the time to sew clothes for myself and two children. With an electric sewing machine I use less effort and do better sewing. I enjoy making well-tailored clothes that really save expenses. "You just can't go wrong on an 'all-electric' home when you start counting the returns it brings."

You can lead a life of leisure when your home is "all-electric"

● Yes, the things the modern housewife can do in and out of a home that's "all-electric" afford plenty of pleasure. She has more leisure time because her electric appliances make shorter work of every household task.

She can put a delicious dinner in the oven, and be free to while away the hours as the dinner cooks. She can do a double wash after a week's vacation with the help of all the hot water she needs. The dishes are done while she dresses for an evening out. It's all because every electric appliance contributes to the ease, comfort and convenience of living.

Enjoy more leisure in your household with additional electric servants. An electric range and water heater will qualify you for PGE's "All-Electric Home" rate, available upon application at your nearest PGE office.
