Seen and Heard ...

MOVING TIME ... Change of address for the William McAfee, former Salem resident, who has been in Sacramento, Calif. Bill has been promoted to the main offices of Standard Oil in San Francisco as an assistant manager. They were fortunate in obtaining a house on the peninsula at San Carlos. They moved the first of September and their new address is 2050 White Oaks Way.

Building their own ... Donald and Marie Ann Wells have a grand start on their new home in Modesto, Calif. A spacious house on one floor with den, two bedrooms, kitchen and breakfast room, huge living room, patio and full basement. They hope to be in for Christmas. The Lester Newmans plan to go south to be with their daughter and son-in-law for the housewarming. The young couple sent their plans north for the Newmans to see, which makes them want to go south even sooner.

New address for Warren and Patricia Doolittle, who moved the past week to a five room cottage at 662 Thompson street. The Doolittles have property out on the Wallace road, where they hope to build in a few years.

TRAVEL TIDBITS ... Home again for the James Youngs, who returned this weekend from a fortnight's motor trip to Colorado. They visited in Denver and then went on to Colorado Springs, where they stayed at the Broadmoor hotel, a gorgeous place. Only wishing they could have remained longer.

Off for Chicago this week go Robert and Maxine Needham. They leave Friday on the Empire Builder and in the "windy city" will be registered at the Palmer House. Home again in two weeks.

To the world series ... go our sports editor, Al Lightner, and his wife. They will board a plane next Sunday for New York City, where they have reservations at the Waldorf-Astoria for the series. They will commute between Brooklyn and New York. While there they will see Al's friend, Bill Bevens, the Yankee pitcher, and his family. The Lightners will fly home after the series.

THAT "NEW LOOK" ... When the Willamette university coeds arrived en masse on the campus this week, needless to say they all looked alike. Having taken over the styles by storm, the new long skirts, pencil slim, and long hooded coats. The days of individual styles have gone. They all want to be alike. Even to loafers and bobby socks. And we understand tucked away in their trunks are dashing formals, many the new ballerina length, and fetching afternoon frocks with accentuated hiplines and draped skirts.

FROM DOWN SOUTH ... Fit comes news of the Charles F. Fitts (Mary Elizabeth Sisson), who are nicely situated in their duplex apartment in Westwood, a suburb of Los Angeles. They are only a few blocks from the UCLA campus, where Charles will complete his pre-dental course this winter. Mary Elizabeth also has a position on the campus as business manager of the stage department at Rice hall. She is looking forward to meeting the many stars, their accompanists, teachers and business managers, who will be there during the winter. Her first introduction was to Margaret Truman's teacher. As Miss Truman practiced at the hall before her appearance at the Hollywood Bowl. Mary Elizabeth has also met a lot of Pi Beta Phi alumnae and been to several rush parties.

On a sailing trip ... last weekend went the Peter Newells (Margaret Nunn) of Oakland, Calif. They joined friends in Los Angeles and then out on a trip to Catalina Islands. The Newells have their own sailing boat moored up on the bay, where they enjoy many a weekend.

WEDDING ECHOES ... The weather man turned on his sunniest smile for last Sunday afternoon's marriage of petite Peggy Paxson and Budd Coons. The attendants in colorful summer frocks, carrying out the yellow and orchid color scheme with a touch of blue. Peggy so calm and poised, much more so than her bridesmaids. Noted one whose bouquet shook all the way down the aisle.

At the reception ... the lovely Glenn Paxson home in Morningside the setting. Guests strolling through the gardens, some bringing their cake and punch outside. The bridal party receiving in the living room. Lt. Col. Donald Coons, now in Honolulu, couldn't be present for his brother's wedding so sent two leis of lavender baby orchids to the mothers. But instead, they divided them and had corsages for each. And encircled the cake with a garland of orchids with clusters of the flowers arranged in the candelabras.

About people ... A contingent of handsome Phi Delta Theta fraternity brothers of the groom at the church all in one pew. Frank Brown squiring petite Midge Newton in a black crepe afternoon dress, long skirt, fuchsia drape and white blouse. Madeleine Keene over from Corvallis and wearing a sapphire blue suit. With Mr. and Mrs. Donald Roberis their coed daughter, Georgia, in a becoming black moire taffeta suit. Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Power and tall, blonde daughter, Marilyn, now a sophomore at high school.

Here and there ... The newlyweds represented by Bland and Beverly Simmons, just home from their honeymoon trip south. Ted and Patsy Mankertz, both to enroll at Oregon State this week. Mrs. James Sears with her bride-elect daughter, Patricia, sister, Peggy, one of the candle-lighters. Maurice and Jane Fitzsimmons. She stunning in a snowcloud grey suit, the new long skirt, short jacket and grey felt with matching chiffon drape coming around in front.

HALE OF HOLLYWOOD

ON DIAMONDS: Diamonds are valuable because they are scarce, beautiful to the eye and nearly indestructible. You couldn't burn a diamond if you tried - unless you were a scientist who knew how to create pure oxygen and heat it to several hundred degrees. A diamond is the hardest mineral known, because its atoms are in a very rigidly fixed position. Diamonds are also pretty rigidly fixed in the earth, mostly in South Africa, although about 10,000 of them have been found in Pike county, Arkansas, in the past 40 years. Diamonds, in addition to their beauty and sentimental value, are always a good investment, because they don't depreciate on the market like stocks and bonds. And you don't need to go to Africa or Arkansas to find them. Come in and look at ours.

HELPS RESTORE SPRING FLOWER BEAUTY TO FADING SKIN

If you're a woman out battling for a living in a man's world, it is frequently a real financial asset to look younger than your actual years. That's why all such women have a particularly compelling reason to try ENDOCREME. For most women, this scientific face cream can help the skin of face and throat retain or recapture firmness, freshness, smoothness, young-appearing loveliness in a way hitherto thought impossible through cosmetics. ENDOCREME alone contains ACTIVOL, an effective replacement for a certain natural feminine substance essential to skin beautification. Absorbed by the skin, it helps restore normal growth to ageing cells and tissue. Its unequalled benefits have been established by 10 years of widespread use. Many report marked results in as few as 30 days. $3.50 (plus tax), 30 days' supply.
