

Forget-Me-Not Board Named

Committees in charge of the annual Disabled American Veterans forget-me-not sale October 3 and 4 were announced Saturday by James Callaway, commander of Salem chapter 6, as Don Lutz, chairman, William Richards and James Baker, with Mrs. Verne Ostrander as auxiliary chairman. Theme for the sale this year is "Give a little for those who gave a lot." Proceeds will be used by the chapter in work among the city's disabled veterans and their families. Sales will be made by auxiliary members and other volunteers.

Reconstructed Adair Buildings Form School

MT. ANGEL — For the first time in the history of Mt. Angel, the prep school will be separated entirely from the seminary on college hill. The seminary will continue its classes in the original building to the northeast of the campus. The prep school is several hundred feet southwest of the college gymnasium and made up of reconstructed buildings from Camp Adair, and painted cream-colored. There are four study halls, commercial and typing study hall, science hall, a shop, a faculty room, cafeteria and assembly hall which will also be used as chapel.

Preparing Toys for New Onslaught by Kiddies

'Repairatory,' New Industry, Mends Toys

By Don Dill
Staff Writer, The Statesman
September seems early to think of Christmas and toys for the youngsters, but a new Salem business begun this week points the way to getting Christmas toy problems settled early by gathering all the old broken toys and getting them repaired. Two Salem veterans thought of the benefits of having their own business while they served in Europe in the 71st division, but it was only recently that they hit upon starting a toy repair shop. Robert L. Prime had the merchandising ideas and John D. Rutherford had the mechanical skill. Together they are the Repairatory, Salem's Toy Clinic, located at 197½ S. Commercial street. Mending broken toys are just a part of their services. Others include the rebuilding and repairing of baby furniture, which, as parents know, has a high mortality rate after the vigorous onslaughts of young hopefuls. Prime and Rutherford plan to buy broken toys and furniture and, after restoring them, selling them at low cost to help make up for the general shortage in such items. Other plans call for marketing games, toys and furniture, and later a doll repair service.

EITHER SHOP OR FOUNDRY

If you have a foundry job, you want the proper type of metal, one that will withstand the necessary maximum stresses and strains. If the job requires machining, you want precision work. The same holds true if the job you want is one of metal fabrication. You want good metal and precision work. We have a 35-year-old reputation for doing foundry and metal fabrication jobs as skillfully and accurately as they can be done anywhere.

Our plant is well equipped and our designing and engineering staff welcomes new metal problems and old. If you have a foundry or fabrication job, no matter how extraordinary, you may find the solution at

Two more Salem veterans this week put into being plans for their own business made while slogging along European battlefronts. Shown in top photo are J. D. Rutherford, left, and R. L. Prime working on an airplane kiddie-car in their toy repair shop located at 197½ S. Commercial st. Some little boy will be made happy with the go-cart in the lower picture after R. L. Prime finishes painting it. The cart was badly broken and would have gone for kindling wood, but the repair service of the toy clinic has made it good for many more play time hours. Order Frees Idanha Land

An order vacating a strip of land about 40 feet wide at the west end of Second street in Idanha was issued by Marion county court Saturday. Petition for vacating was filed with the county court several months ago by Huber Ray, Freda Ray, Ralph Adams, jr., Margaret Adams, Thorsten V. Petterson, Mae Petterson, John Sundquist, Anna Sundquist, Alice Johnson and the Idanha Lumber company, all of Idanha. Reason for vacating the strip, according to the petition, is that the land has never been opened up, the order would not affect the public, the street is not needed for public purposes, and that the petitioners are owners of land adjoining the vacated parcel.

Girl Scouts of Santiam Area to Meet in Silverton

SILVERTON — Lucy McAfee, new Santiam area Girl Scout executive, will speak Monday night at the Eugene Field auditorium to which presidents of all the local service clubs and auxiliary have been invited. The meeting is open to the public. Monday noon, Miss McAfee will be guest speaker at the Rotary club luncheon and in the afternoon she will address Girl Scout leaders and committees. Eight Girl Scout troops, including about 150 girls, were active in Silverton last year.

ADVICE TO DIABETICS

● Beware of patent medicines advertised as cures or remedies for diabetes! They often are not reliable. Diabetes was first recognized about 1552 B.C. This was about the time of Moses, or 200 years before the birth of King Tut. Ever since that time, at intervals, some faker comes up with a cure. A dependable treatment for diabetes was discovered only twenty years ago. It will not cure the disease, but it will enable the diabetic to live a normal life. The discovery is known as Insulin. Your doctor knows all about it. If he finds it necessary in your case, we can supply it in just the right strength.
