Dates Set for Concerts

Salem Community Concert association will open its series this year on Friday, November 21 with the appearance of the Leonard dePaur Infantry chorus of 36 negro singers. This is the first major concert attraction to come out of World War II. The group gave over 2500 concerts for the armed services. The dePaur ensemble makes up its repertoire from the music of the many lands the soldiers have visited.

Mia Slavenska and her Ballet Variante, a company of six dancers and two pianists, are booked for December 12. The St. Louis Sinfonietta of 21 players will be here March 15 and on March 14 the young "superman of the keyboard," William Kappell, will appear. To close the series Bidu Sayao will give a repeat performance on April 12. So many requests were received by the concert board for Miss Sayao, who appeared here in 1942, that the committee re-engaged her for this season.

All concerts will again be held at the Salem high school auditorium and season tickets will be mailed the last of October, three weeks before the first concert, as is customary with the concert association.

Madame President

Another year of activity for the many women's service and patriotic organizations in the city will get underway this month. Pictured here today are presidents of a few of the larger clubs, who will carry on the aims and purposes of their groups for the ensuing year. Nearly all of the clubs are holding their first meetings this month to formulate plans and programs, engage speakers, and outline their philanthropic and service work. It will be under the leadership of these women and their board members to fulfill these responsible duties.

Leaders Meet...

The women's division of the Community Chest drive has gotten underway to a fine start with final plans made by the leaders at a luncheon meeting Friday afternoon when the women's division chairman, Mrs. L. V. Benson, entertained at her East Nob Hill home. Several hundred women workers will participate in the drive opening October 7 and ending October 16. Pre-campaign activities began this last week.

Loyal Warner, Marion county chairman of the chest drive, A. C. Haag, Salem chairman, Carl Hogg and Charles A. Sprague spoke to the leaders following the luncheon hour.

On Tuesday, September 30 the leaders will entertain their captains at an informal tea and meeting at the home of Mrs. Benson.
