Valley Obituaries

George Edwin Githens
ALBANY, Sept. 23 - George Edwin Githens, 72, route 1, Shedd, died in a Corvallis hospital after a brief illness Sept. 20. Funeral services under the direction of the Fisher Funeral home will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday, September 24, from the Pine Grove chapel at Peoria, with Rev. Ed. Edward Terry officiating. Burial will be in the Pine Grove cemetery.

Born on the Garrett donation land claim near Peoria Sept. 23, 1875, he spent his entire life with the exception of four years in that community where he followed farming as an occupation. Time not spent there was while attending Albany college in Albany and a brief period in Oregon City. He was active in the affairs of the Western Star grange and was a member of Shedd lodge AF & AM, of Willamette chapter of OES of Shedd and of the former South Methodist church of Peoria.

On April 8, 1898, Githens married Minnie D. Lamar of Peoria. She died in 1928 and on Aug. 27, 1933, he married Millie Richardson in Vancouver, Wash., who survives; also two sons, W. Russell Githens and G. Merle Githens, both of Shedd. Other survivors are a brother, James G. Githens of Corvallis; a sister, Mrs. Fred Windler of Portland; seven grandchildren and one great grandchild. His parents were William E. and Nancy Jane Garrett, early pioneers of Linn county, his mother having been born on the same donation claim he was.

Callie A. Cooley
ALBANY - Funeral services for Mrs. Callie A. Cooley, 89, who died at her home in Brownsville Sept. 18, were held Saturday from Brownsville Presbyterian church, with burial in Albany Masonic cemetery. Mrs. Cooley had been in failing health for many years.

Born May 1, 1858, in New Market, Tenn., and came to Brownsville in 1876 and had lived there since. On Nov. 17, 1880, she was married to William C. Cooley, pioneer merchant of Brownsville, who died in 1945. Survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Faye Dedman of Brownsville, a son, Carl Cooley of Portland, a brother, J. E. Sawyer of Brownsville, a grandson, William C. Dedman of Eugene.

Parking Meters For Silverton Recommended

SILVERTON - Parking meters for Silverton's business district, as a form of revenue and to handle the parking problem will be recommended to the city council October 6, the Silverton planning commission voted Monday night. Dr. P. A. Loar, vice president, presided in the absence of Rholin Cooley, president.

Members of the commission pointed out most of the smaller towns as well as the larger ones in the valley were installing or have installed the meters.

Also to be recommended to the council is the forming of an ordinance requesting all property owners on Silver Creek in the city to clean up their property, which reaches to the center of the creek and keep it clean. State law prohibits dumping of debris in the creek but does not force property owners to clean it up, commission members said.

Glen Woody and Mrs. Woody were present in the interest of their dances conducted Saturday nights at the Silverton armory. These have been the butt of criticism from South Water street residents who claim the dances draw undesirable followers. Woody explained he had heard no criticism of the dances until the reports of the meeting attended by the South Water street delegation, appeared in the papers, that he was willing to comply with any city rulings and did pay the license fee asked.

Mayor George Christenson, present at the Monday commission meeting, explained that an ordinance was being passed Tuesday night on its first and second reading raising the license fee, prohibiting dances to go in and out of the hall without paying additional entrance fees, and providing for additional policing of the parking lot adjacent to the hall.
