PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24 — (P) — The Oregon Association of Nurserymen and the Oregon chapter of the American Association of Nurserymen will hold a joint meeting here Friday and Saturday.

Salem Night School Classes Draw 204; Courses to Be Added

Preliminary enrollment in Salem's adult education night school program which got underway last week at Salem senior high school stood at 204 Wednesday. George D. Porter, program director reported. Porter pointed out that following the usual annual trend, enrollment will continue to increase through the fall months. Most of the registration in the 26 classes is in the related training division, Porter said, with the rest in those courses which are below college credit level and those attended by 16- and 17-year-olds who are required to do so by law.

Enrollment remains open in all the classes, Porter said. Keen interest, he said, has been shown in the public address and radio speaking course by the nine enrollees, but there is room for several more.

Shorthand Class

Because of increased demand, a class in shorthand was organized for meetings on Monday and Wednesday nights at 8:30 in room 124 in the senior high school. If the present demand for a mechanical drawing class continues, Porter said, a class in that course also will be organized. The leathercraft class opening is delayed until October 13, he revealed.

Other classes — automotive parts salesman's course and a course in retail selling — will begin next week. The salesman's class, taught by Robert Hauser of the Colyar Sales company, begins Wednesday, October 1, from 7 to 11 p.m. in room 226 at the high school.

The class will meet one night a week, with four hours' credit given for each night attended, and is to be scheduled for three 12-week terms. Beginning Monday night, September 29, is the class in retail selling, taught by R. L. Manning, local J. C. Penney store executive. It will be held weekly from 7 to 11 p.m. in room 226.

College Credit Courses — Porter also announced additions to the college credit courses of the state system of higher education which will begin Monday, September 29 also at the senior high school.

A class in designing for lower division credits and a course in art structure for upper division credits, will be taught by Margaret McDevitt, new art supervisor of the Salem public school system. The classes will include wood carving, ceramics, pottery making and block printing and will begin Wednesday night at 7:15 in room 205.

Victor N. Phelps, instructor in elementary education in the general extension system, will instruct a class in improvement of instruction in reading. The class will meet Monday night at 7:15 in room 221 and will cover responsibility for classroom teachers in the elementary grades.

Additional information may be secured from Porter in the school administration building. Suggestions for new courses also are encouraged, Porter said.

District Court Jurors Chosen

A list of 12 names were drawn Wednesday for the October term jury of the Marion county district court. Jurors selected are ordered to be at the district court rooms Thursday, October 9, at 9:30 a.m., according to Marion County Clerk Harlan Judd.

The list includes Leon Hillen, West Stayton; Irene Hande, East Silverton; Louise Lesley, Stayton; Arthur E. Olson, East Woodburn, and Martha Hrubetz, Grace N. Hartley, Pearl C. Harland, Beulah I. Follis, Florence Repine, Frank K. Mann, Thomas Barum and Milan A. Meier, all of Salem. Drawing was done by Clerk Judd and Denver Young, Marion county sheriff.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

We All Need Fun!

Nobody in Our Town is exactly lazy (even though Pete Swanson's missus claims he sleeps till seven A.M.). But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister—on call, morning, noon and night.

Funny thing, Doc's favorite prescription to his patients is: You ought to have fun. The pace of modern living, even on the farm, demands some relaxation.

And as Doc says—fun is a personal thing. For the missus it may mean a movie or a good book; for Dad, a mellow and refreshing glass of beer; and for the kids, parcheesi or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thing—so long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.

Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer—and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of that relaxation.
