Hopyard Worker Killed in Crash

NEWBERG, Oct. 2.-(AP)-Harold Bingham, 24-year-old hopyard worker, was killed today when a car he was driving skidded from the highway into a pole just south of here.

A relative, Raymond Reeves, Newberg, riding with Bingham, suffered a broken jaw and face cuts. Bingham is survived by the widow. The two had come here recently from California to work in hopyards, and were living with a cousin, Grover Livengood.

Officers Given Navy Reserve Assignments

Assignment of officers to sections and an initial start in a training program was accomplished at Thursday night's meeting of the Salem naval reserve unit in building 2-514 of Salem airport.

Commander Vernon Gilmore announced that the officer list has been completed except for a warrant machinist. Fourteen officers have been assigned, he said, three of whom are only associated with the unit.

The officers who received their orders last night are: Ens. Thane Cole, Lt. Comdr. M. K. Crothers, Lt. Quentin Aubol and Lt. Harry Laggan. The three associate officers are Lt. Comdr. S. H. Mollit, training officer, Lt. Loggan and Comdr. Crothers, medical officer.

Lt. Aubol has been appointed executive officer and Lt. Loggan director of the naval reserve, accompanied by Capt. C. W. Holstein, USN, both of the 13th naval district headquarters in Seattle, Wash., would visit the unit next Thursday night. They will also inspect the proposed site for the naval armory, he said.

The Salem unit was told last night it has been invited to make a week-end cruise to the Columbia river on the Portland unit's ship, the USS Gilligan, on November 8 and 9. Following last night's meeting a movie of the second battle of the Philippines was shown.

Gilmore also revealed that Capt. A. D. Ayreault, USN, district director of the naval reserve, accompanied by Capt. C. W. Holstein, USN, both of the 13th naval district headquarters in Seattle, Wash., would visit the unit next Thursday night. They will also inspect the proposed site for the naval armory, he said.

Pudding River Water Control Boundary Petitions Prepared

Establishment of the long-sought Pudding river water control district may come about by the end of this year, it was indicated at an organizational meeting of the district committeemen Thursday night in Woodburn.

Held in the offices of the North Marion Growers association, the meeting was a result of many similar conferences held during the past year. The eight committeemen present approved a move to circulate prepared petitions among owners of land in the proposed district. Purpose of the petitions is to establish the boundaries of the district.

Roughly the district would include about 41,940 acres in Marion county and 6,825 in Clackamas county lying in a three-mile-wide belt stretching along the Pudding river from just north of Canby to the Lake Labish area. The belt would be about 15 miles long.

Attending the conference last night were George Cline, chairman, Ralph Zimmerman, secretary and attorney for the group.

John Ramage, L. E. Parmentier, Harris Leit, O. Strand, Ernest Dunn, T. J. Anderson and Marion County Judge Grant Murphy. All own land along the river except Judge Murphy who was representing Marion county at the meeting.

Purpose of the proposed district, Judge Murphy said, is to acquire a right-of-way to enable U. S. army engineers to clear the stream of log and debris entanglements which has plagued it for many years. Already a fund of $10,000, part of the federal flood control appropriations, has been earmarked by the army engineers for use on the proposed Pudding river project, the judge said.

The petitioners hope to secure the needed names within 15 days. Following a check of owners and acreage by the Marion and Clackamas county assessors, the county courts will call hearings, Judge Murphy said. Because Marion county has the largest amount of acreage in the proposed district, it will ultimately decide the boundary question, Judge Murphy said.

Supervisors Group Meets

Supervisors from 10 Salem industrial plants were present at the Thursday night meeting of the Industrial Supervisors club in the local YMCA, to hear a talk by Carl Greider, new veterans employment representative at the Salem office of the state employment service.

Greider explained the duties and friendship he has found with his seeing eye dog, Bernie Phillips played piano selections, and the club was entertained by a group of Russian folk songs sung by three Canadian-born Willamette university students. They are Peter, Stephen and William Faminow, brothers, from Ontario.

The next meeting of the club will be held November 21, at which time it is hoped to have a speaker of national prominence to extol the Taft-Hartley bill. Stearns Cushing, president, announced that William Meyers, New York City executive committeeman of the national Industrial Supervisors club would meet here on November 6 with the local club's officers.

Tories Back Mild Form of Socialism

BRIGHTON, England, Oct. 2.-(AP)-The Conservative party approved overwhelmingly today the retention in Britain of some form of nationalized industry despite a challenge that such a program constitutes "milk and water socialism."

Sir Waldrom Smithers, leader in Parliament of the party's "Old Guard" opposed the resolution. However, only three opposition votes were recorded when the 3,000 delegates attending the party's annual conference endorsed the proposal by a show of hands.

Funeral Services Set Saturday for Thomas Teeson

Funeral services for Thomas Teeson, 66, of 410 S. 14th st., who died Wednesday at Madigan General hospital in Fort Lewis, Wash., will be held Saturday at 3 p. m. at the W. T. Rigdon chapel here.

The Rev. Louis E. White will officiate and concluding services will take place at Belcrest Memorial park. The deceased was the husband of Velma L. Teeson of Salem. He had suffered a stroke September 15 at Puyallup, Wash., where he had gone to work at the Western Washington fair.

Born Feb. 17, 1891, at Camas, Wash., Teeson lived there until he came to Salem 27 years ago. He was employed at the Oregon Pulp and Paper company here for 20 years prior to his retirement two years ago. He was a veteran of the first World war and had been a member of the Knight Memorial church and had held memberships in the papermakers union and Silver Belle Circle No. 43, of the Neighbors of Woodcraft.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by his daughter, Stella Pearl Teeson of Salem and a brother, Robert Teeson of Washougal, Wash.
