Miss Gaiser Tells Troth In South

Romantic news comes from the south today telling of the engagement of a Salem girl, Miss Rosemary Gaiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Gaiser, to Richard Maxfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Maxfield of Los Angeles.

The bride-elect, who is now wearing a diamond on her third finger left hand, passed the traditional box of chocolates to her classmates at Mudd hall on the Pomona college campus last week. No date has been set for the wedding, but it will probably take place next summer.

Miss Gaiser is a graduate of Salem high school, where she was active in music circles. She is a senior at Pomona college and will graduate in June. Her fiance attended Duke university and took his last two years at Pomona college, from which he graduated in June. He is now attending the University of Southern California, where he has a fellowship and is working on his master's degree. During the war he served as a paratrooper with the 101st airborne division.
