

Community Chest Campaigners To Report Progress of Drive

Community chest campaigners who began blanketing Salem Tuesday for this year's support of the chest will tally their first progress report Wednesday when division chairmen and other chest officials meet with the Salem Rotary club at a Marion hotel luncheon.

Similar reports counting daily what has been raised toward Salem's $160,000 chest goal will be made Thursday at Salem Lions club luncheon, both in the Marion hotel.

Johnson To Talk

For the Wednesday noon chest report meetings, a talk titled "It Does Happen Here" will be delivered by H. C. Johnson, representative of Mountain States Power company of Albany and president of the Oregon chest, the statewide chest organization. He will be introduced by Dr. Chester H. Hamblin, First Presbyterian church pastor and local chest speakers' committee chairman.

At Tuesday's breakfast "kick-off" meeting for chest workers, the Right Rev. Francis P. Leipzig of Eugene pictured community chest support as a vital necessity for the future because most of the funds support important youth activities.

Prestige of Home Needed

The Eugene priest, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church and a state director in Catholic Charities, said prosperity and post-war adjustments have not decreased broken homes and child delinquency but that community chest serves toward building the prestige of the home as foundation of the whole nation.

The giver who helps support the chest gives twice, Father Leipzig stressed, "once to another and once to himself." Chairman A. C. Haag presided at the breakfast. The Rev. Dudley Strain gave the invocation, Ronald Craven accompanied by his wife sang, and workers presented a skit. Past and present chest officials, city and chamber of commerce leaders were introduced.

"Tri-Y girls of Salem's YWCA helped serve the breakfast, and James Todd of the Boy Scouts was bugler."

It was on Good Friday night, 1865, that Abraham Lincoln was assassinated.

Pupils Enter Fire Safety Essay Contest

A total of $25 in prizes is the object of students in Parrish, Leslie and West Salem junior high schools who have entered an essay contest concerning fire prevention being sponsored for the second consecutive year by the Homer H. Smith Insurance Co. of Salem.

Deadline for contest entries is October 17, according to Harry B. Johnson, curriculum director of the Salem public school system. Final judging will be done at the state fire marshal's office, he said.

Four prizes will be awarded. The first prize is to be $10; second, $7.50; third, $5 and fourth, $2.50. All pupils in the three schools are eligible, Johnson said. Suggested subjects are: "My Place in Fire Prevention" and "What Can I Do About Fire Prevention?"

The contest is being held in connection with fire prevention week. Johnson explained. He noted that all other Salem schools were emphasizing fire prevention this week with programs, fire drills and showing of a fire prevention film.

James W. Beall Talks to VFW

Past Commander James W. Beall addressed members of Beaver Navy post 7775 of the VFW at their regular meeting in the VFW hall Tuesday night and stressed the importance of cooperation between national, state and local posts of the organization.

Beall also pointed out the specific aims and purposes of the VFW, asserting it is among the top organizations for membership benefits.

Commander Joseph Hopkins also spoke, disclosing that recent cuts in veterans administration personnel will now throw an additional burden on veteran organizations' service officers. Hopkins said the Salem post service officer will be on hand to help any veteran who wishes to consult him if help cannot be obtained from the VA.

Members were entertained by several tap dance numbers given by Shirley Woodraska, Sally Kubler and Irene Lester, accompanied by Mrs. Woodraska on the piano. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Confederate Army, All 4 Generals, at Convention

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 7 (AP)—The thinning gray ranks of the United Confederate Veterans could muster only four men today for the opening of their 52nd convention.

All were privates in the Confederate army, but they have been long since elevated to the rank of general, by courtesy.

Duke, Hostak Draw

SEATTLE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Little Georgia Duke of San Francisco outboxed the veteran Al Hostak tonight to earn a draw with the former middleweight champion of the world, Duke weighed 159 and Hostak 161½.

The decision was unpopular with the crowd which thought Duke had earned the call.

ST TRAIN DERAILED

MILL CITY, Oct. 7 — No one was injured when two cars on a Southern Pacific logging train was derailed at 4 p.m. this afternoon. The train was held up for several hours. Cause of the derailment is unknown here.

BOND ISSUE FOR GEARHART

GEARHART, Ore., Oct. 7—(AP)—Voters at this seacoast resort town today approved a $75,000 water bond issue 89 to 21.

Stayton Students Elect Officers

STAYTON — Marie Fery was elected president of the high school librarians when they met Friday afternoon to organize and elect officers.

Elected to serve with her were Madge Samples, vice president; Joan Roys, secretary - treasurer; Leitha Thomas, Dorothy Williams and Wahneta Wagner were appointed to write the constitution and by-laws.

Student librarians are Madge Samples, Leitha Thomas, Dorothy Williams, Marie Fery, Joan Roys and Wahneta Wagner, and each will be on duty one period a day.

The Dewey decimal system of classification was discussed. A new order of books is expected to arrive soon. Mrs. Inez Keester is sponsor of the group.

Truck Driver Cleared Of Accident Charge

ST HELENS, Oct. 7 — (AP) — L. W. Hereford, Salem driver whose truck collided with the car of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bule last Thursday, killing both of them, was cleared of blame today.

A coroner's jury held that Hereford was innocent of negligence in the collision. The Salem man said his truck skidded on a hazardous turn.

Legion Post Elects Heads Of Committees

Salem post 136, American Legion, in its first regular fall meeting at Legion hall Tuesday night, elected committee chairmen for the coming year and made initial plans for a mass initiation of all new members November 24.

The following committee chairmen were selected:

House, John Latany; legal, Norman Winstlow; publicity, Eric Allen; finance, Wayne Perdue; service, Wayne Smith; visiting, the Rev. Lewis White; Americanism, Bert Walker; internal security, Tyrone Gillespie; child welfare, Kenneth Shoemaker; disaster relief and medical, Dr. Arthur Fischer; national defense, Bill Dyer; building, Joe Felton; projects, Don Ballentyne; programs, co-chairmen, Clint Staudish and Wayne Doughton; membership, Carl Greider and Charles Creighton; legislative, Sam Harrison; and athletics, Walter Wood.

Post Commander Chester Fritz discussed the Oregon Parent-Teacher association's opposition to proposed military training legislation and members passed a resolution to appoint a committee to confer with the association on the matter. Fritz said the committee would attempt to show the mothers the necessity of preparedness through military training.

The organization also decided to form ritual committees and firing squads to supply military burials for servicemen who died overseas and whose bodies are now being returned to the United States for final rites.

It was announced that all uninitiated members of the post will be taken in on November 24. Fritz said the initiation committee would be appointed in the near future.

Halsey Boys Dominate 4-H Stock Show

Three Oregon brothers dominated the swine 4-H exhibit with the grand champion fat barrow shown by 14-year-old Gary Holmes, Halsey, Ore., leading the way. Vernon Holmes, 17, was named grand champion 4-H swine showman over all breeds. In a class for Duroc gilts, Norman, 11, won second and Gary, fourth. Brother Vernon also took first in the cross-bred hog show.

Breed showman champions for 4-H swine were: Berkshire, Charles Gordon, Thorpe, Wash.; Chester White, Dale Cooley, AI-many, Ore.; Hampshire, Ronald Kamp, Tualatin, Ore.; Poland China, Alfred Jungkeit, Albany, Ore.; cross-bred, Kenneth Hill, Cove, Ore.; other breeds, Jerry Jeskey, Aurora, Ore.

Calves won in club scrambles last year returned to the show arena today with top awards going to Jo Harvey, Sherman county, Ore., for his heavy Hereford and Bill Volker, Marion county, Ore., for his Angus entry.

In fat hog competition, the light barrow top award for Hampshire went to an entry of L. S. Berry, Salem.

The spotted Poland China fat hog awards were dominated by the Arthur Franke and son, Salem, entries, taking the champion barrow, champion pen of three, light barrow, heavy barrow and pen of three and heavy pen of three.
