

Seen and Heard ...

By JERYME ENGLISH

AN UNQUALIFIED SUCCESS

That's the consensus on the Salem General hospital auxiliary's annual benefit tea held Thursday. The lovely George Rossman home the setting after four o'clock a steady line of guests waiting for tea with over three hundred dollars taken in to swell the auxiliary's treasury.

In line ... Mrs. Rossman, always a most gracious hostess, welcoming her guests in a pearl grey crepe gown with tiered skirt of matching fringe. Mrs. John H. Carson, the auxiliary president, in black satin combined with crepe. Miss Lillian McDonald, the hospital superintendent, wearing black adorned with blue. Nice gesture ... the attractive wives of the doctors on the hospital staff assisting about the rooms in their formal gowns.

The decor ... Lovely arrangements of chrysanthemums ... pink and lavender ones in the living room and a bronze and gold bouquet in the hallway. The tea table ... centered with a bouquet of American Beauty roses and at the base shaggy and button chrysanthemums in the pink and lilac shades with American Beauty ribbon extending on the cloth ... a single pink taper flanking the arrangement on either side.

Stand-outs ... So many pretty chapeaux to talk about ... A wine-berry felt with maline of wine and grey tucked in the crushed brim of Mrs. Abner Kline's hat which matched her gown ... A violet feather hat with pansies at the side chosen by Mrs. Duane Gibson. Mrs. Farley Mogan wore one of the fetching hats she brought home with her from Paris ... a high crown brown felt adorned with a brown bird and red feathers ... her suit a brown and white check with bustle bow in back. Stunning Mrs. Robert Parks, who designs and makes her own clothes, chose black with fringe edging the hemline of her skirt and a black felt bordered with fringe. A brown velvet pouff bow at the side of Mrs. Hollis Huntington's brown felt and green orchids pinned to her mink coat.

From out-of-town ... came Mrs. E. B. Bossatti and Mrs. Donald White of Dallas, wives of doctors ... the Whites, however, only recently moved to our nearby city. Mrs. Thorne Hammond, down visiting from Portland, with Mrs. Jack Carlon and Mrs. Maurice Saffron. The Carlons moved back to Salem from Portland a week ago and have purchased a home on Fairmount Hill, hoping to be settled and moved by the first of December. Mrs. William Duncan (Harriet Hawkins) over from Silverton and dashing in her almond brown "going away" outfit ... accompanied by another young bride, Mrs. John Johnson (Joy Randall), who wore a romance blue silk crepe.

Noticeable ... A smart three-piece ... Mrs. George Scales in a mink brown suit with gold trim and brown hat with rolled brim of beige and jaunty quilt ... Mrs. Claybourne Dyer in a country beige suit and matching chapeau with fawn beige satin bow at the side ... and Mrs. William C. Dyer, Jr., choosing an all black ensemble ... Mrs. Paul B. Wallace, coming in with daughter, Mrs. Robert Gormsen ... the former striking in a three-piece suit of almond brown English tweed, fresh violets pinned to the lapel and a brown hat ... Mrs. Harry U. Miller in a becoming brown silk afternoon suit and Mrs. Donald McCargar in a handsome black costume suit with short fitted jacket and ermine tuxedo ... Mrs. Kenneth Potts selecting a good-looking black taffeta "5 o'clock" suit with horizontal gold stripes ... and Mrs. Glenn Stevens in a smart striped suit of black and white wool and black hat with feather trim. Mrs. Karl Becke with daughter, Mrs. William Shinn, chic in a black and white wool frock ... Taking tickets ... Mrs. Werner Brown

New Babies Welcomed

To Mr. and Mrs. Parker Gies go congratulations on the birth of a seven pound boy, Carl Michael, at the Salem Deaconess hospital Thursday morning. The little boy has an older sister, Martha. Grandparents of the baby are Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gies of Salem, Miles E. Branch and Mrs. Flavia Branch of Independence.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip M. Brandt are receiving felicitations on the birth of a son, William Douglas, Wednesday morning at the Salem Deaconess hospital. The little boy, who weighed eight pounds, eight ounces, has an older brother, Phillip, Jr., and sister, Lark Meredith. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Phillip M. Brandt of Corvallis and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cottrell of Portland.

Parents of a six pound, six ounce daughter are Mr. and Mrs. Darrell H. Gemmell (Mariela Lang). The little girl was born on November 4 at the Salem General hospital and has been named Tia Kay. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Chester Gemmell of Salem and Prof. and Mrs. Theodore Lang of Glendale, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowman have as their house guests this week her mother, Mrs. Fred Nelson of Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald C. Hudkins have returned from a week's sojourn at the Vancouver hotel, Vancouver, B.C.

A Morning Ceremony

At a quiet ceremony this morning in the Carrier Room of the First Methodist church Miss Mary Gilchrist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Gilchrist of Brooks, will become the bride of Wallace Turner of Salem, son of Mrs. Fred Booker of Heppner. The Rev. Brooks Moore will perform the rites at 10 o'clock. Miss Billie Oliver will play the wedding music.

For her wedding the bride has chosen a romance blue wool crepe dressmaker suit with black hat and accessories. Pinned to her suit will be an orchid corsage. Mr. Gilchrist will give his daughter in marriage.

Miss Rita Hannagan will be the bride's only attendant and will

The Statesman, Salem, Oregon, Friday, November 7, 1947-9

Salem Women to Attend Meeting

wear a grey dressmaker suit with black accessories and corsage of red roses. Frank Valech will stand with the groom as best man. After the nuptials the couple will greet their guests before the fireplace. They will leave immediately on a wedding trip north to Canada. Mr. Turner and his bride will reside in Salem at 727 Center street.

Miss Gilchrist attended schools in Brooks and Gervais and is now with the Marion county agent's office. The benedict-elect is a graduate of Pendleton high school and served in the navy during the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kugel will entertain members of their club at a dessert supper and evening of bridge Saturday at their North Capital street home. Additional guests will be Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Baldock and Ray Ward.

Delta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma honorary sorority for women educators will meet on Saturday at the Dorchester House. The meeting begins at 11 o'clock, followed by a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Mrs. Colena Anderson of the Linfield College faculty will talk on "China Cross the Bay and the Centuries." The speaker spent several years in the orient and is completing work toward her doctor's degree in oriental studies. She was the first candidate for a doctor's degree at Claremont college.

Salem members of the honorary, planning to attend the meeting are Mrs. Irvin Kron, Miss Mathilda Gilles, Miss June Philpott, Mrs. Ray Pinsen and Miss Loraine Meusey.

Eloquent Silhouettes in Dresses

Beautifully expressed in line, color and design are the new-season's eloquent dresses. So soft and flowing with feminine charm ... so rich and luxurious in fabric. From our new series

OF Winter Fashions

Black taffeta jacket frock with short bouffant skirt. 22.95

Advance Spring prints are here now! 24.95

Black or rust crepe with diagonal interest in accordion pleats. 39.95

Black or royal blue rayon crepe with hip line box. 24.95

Black rayon crepe, jewelry neckline, billowy skirt. 29.95

NEW BAGS by "Shur-Tite"

ARE PRICED AT ONLY

$5.00

A Fine Selection from Which to Choose!

Miller's

As Advertised in Mademoiselle

November is your Birthday Month you'll want your very own FLOWER-OF-THE-MONTH

kerchief by Kimball

50¢

Dazzling chrysanthemum in nature's own lush colors ... followed by its shadow print. The gift that says "for you alone!" Your Kimball Telescope Reading: Magnetic personality!

Miller's

