12 Farmers to Make Homes On Jungle Isle

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 12.–(AP)–A dozen farmers, and the wives of five of them, departed today for a Pacific jungle island intent on starting lives anew.

Described by their leader as "thoroughly discouraged trying to live here in the face of high prices and the housing shortage," they embarked aboard the 74-foot tug Aster for Chirote, off the province of Chiriqui, Panama.

In charge of Harper Henry of Los Angeles, who recently purchased the island, the intrepid voyagers hope to reach their destination in about three weeks, build homes, sow crops and make brooms to provide revenue.

"This is an experimental undertaking," Henry told newsmen as the tug was pushed off. "These people fully intend to stay on Chirote permanently, but after three months, if they aren't satisfied, they can return. That's the bargain I made with them."

Panos were aboard the vessel, kitchen utensils and farm machinery, but no animals.

Two Fireboats To 'Do Battle' With Battleship

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 12–(AP)–This city's navy—two 30-foot fireboats—was put on the alert today to guard the channel of Port Newark agains any attempt to bring the one-time battleship New Mexico here for scrapping.

The former U.S.S. New Mexico, since de-commissioned and sold to Lipsett, Inc., was towed from Boston and has anchored in New York harbor to take on tons of water so that the stern may be high enough for navigation of the shallow channel to Port Newark the next day.

Thus, the showdown on whether the 29,000-ton New Mexico will plow through the channel or will halt in the face of a fireboat blockade is set for Friday morning.

Authorities here contend that the action of the navy in contracting with the Lipsett firm for scrapping the New Mexico, the Wyoming and the Idaho here would jeopardize a recently signed lease between Newark and the port of New York authority for a $70,000,000 development of the city's air and sea ports.

Under terms of the agreement with the port authority, the development would not be started until the navy relinquished its wartime lease of part of the seaport.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Prissy's Got a Man! (Maybe)

Yesterday Sis Martin, our librarian, found an article cut from their file copy of the Clarion. When she compared it with another copy that I gave her she found it was my column on "How to Keep a Husband Happy."

Nothing unusual about that. Except the last person seen reading the paper was Prissy Hoskins (our town's proverbial Old Maid)!

Well, if Prissy has finally got a man, more power to her. And more tolerance to both of them . . . because that's what my column was about: Tolerance of a husband's taste for old hats, old pipes, old friends, and mellow beer. And tolerance on the husband's part of a wife's tastes and habits.

From where I sit, nobody begrudges Prissy taking that clipping from the Clarion. But I'd like to hint that if she'd just subscribe, she'd get my thoughts on tolerance firsthand. And in return I'll treat her to a glass of beer.

Joe Marsh
