HOOD RIVER, Nov. 20 — (AP) — The Oregon farm bureau federa-tion agreed today to start an automobile and farm liability business as a service to mem-bers.

Editor Hinges Future of U.N. On U.S., Soviet

The future relations between Rus-sions organization depends upon the future relations between Rus-sia and the United States, the Salem Lions club was told Thurs-day noon by Charles A. Sprague, publisher of The Oregon States-man, who this fall witnessed the opening session of the United Na-tions assembly at Flushing Mead-ows, Long Island, New York.

Sprague told the luncheon audi-ence in the Marion hotel that UN will be working under handicap as long as peace treaties with the major enemy states of the recent war remain unsettled.

Pressure For Treaties
 "If the peoples of the world in-sist on treaty settlements prompt-ly, then the promise of United Na-tions for a peaceful world may be fulfilled," the publisher declared.

Sprague noted that the writing of peace treaties had been di-vorced completely from the or-ganization of United Nations, but that nevertheless UN's efficiency is impaired by the prolonged de-lay in completing peace treaties.

council. He pointed out that only the general assembly meets in the one remaining World's fair build-ing on Flushing Meadow, while the council and various commit-tees meet "farther out Long Island" at Lake Success. Some of the commissions of U. N. like UNESCO, he continued, may meet anywhere in the world.

The Lions club induced three members during the meeting — Hausmer Siefarth of the city wa-ter department, Earl Heider of Heider's radio shop and George Grabenhorst, Jr., of Grabenhorst Bros. realty firm.

The voice of the legendary tem-ple at Delphi was explained by historian Hippolytus as being a trick in which a concealed assist-ant spoke through the flexible gullet of a crane.

Capitol Cabs Purchased by Clark Brother

The Capitol Cab Co., operator of Salem's red-colored taxis, was purchased Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Madsen by Don Clark, 642 N. Commercial st., brother of Lynn Clark who owns and operates the "yellowcabs" of Salem Taxi service.

Capitol has four taxicabs and city license for a fifth. Salem Taxi has 12 operating licenses. The brothers announced their re-spective ownerships are independent, but they are combining dispatching service at the Salem Taxi offices at 394 N. Church st. Capitol Cab's telephone number will be maintained.

Radio installations to aid dis-patching, already completed in three yellow cabs, will be ex-tended to the string of Capitol cabs, the Clarks also disclosed. First radio installation in a Cap-itol taxi is expected by the end of the month and two additional in-stallations in Salem cabs are planned for December.

Don Clark, formerly of Salem, returned here a few months ago from San Francisco where he was engaged in a taxicab business. He did not disclose the considera-tion involved in the change of ownership of the local taxi firm.
