Easing washday blues is the Launderette operated by Hugh E. Gray at 1255 Ferry st., where housewives can bring their bundles of laundry, place them in a washer and then have 30 minutes for shopping. In photo is Mrs. Walter Phillips, 1275 Oxford st., placing her wash in one of 20 Bendix machines as her daughter Anne, stands by. At left is Mrs. William Lieske, 1820 Cross st., enjoying a magazine while waiting for her wash to be spun-dried. "Holly" Says

We received a shipment of the better wrist watches for Christmas gifts... the little woman deserves the best there is and these lovely creations of the foremost craftsmen in the art of watchmaking are a sight to behold. We have a weak spot for diamonds and these watches with perfect little diamonds set in the engraved cases make these watches stand out like a beautiful blonde in a black formal. FURNACES For All Types of Homes

Because of an absence of sub-zero weather, snow in the Willamette Valley is wet and soggy. It seems colder than snow in colder areas, because the chill of dampness is more penetrating. Fortunately, our yearly average of snowfall here is relatively light, but because of that fact we are not generally prepared for snow when it does come. We have just had an unusually long spell of rain and many improperly heated homes are chilled with dampness. The best insurance against such unhealthy and uncomfortable conditions is a clean, efficient oil, coal, wood or sawdust burning Pacific furnace. Pacific furnaces are popular because we have incorporated into their manufacture all the engineering knowledge and skill learned about home heating in our 35 years of operation. When we went into the furnace manufacturing business back in 1912, we established a policy of "doing a good job better." We have never deviated from that practice, which, combined with the fact that we were the first steel furnace manufacturers established west of the Rockies, is ample guarantee that when you buy a Pacific you buy the best.

TO DO ONE THING WELL

The chief objective of every one should be to do one thing well. Your doctor accomplished this objective when he spent years of his life in preparing himself to care for you when you need medical attention. How foolish, then, to depend on others. When illness comes to you or any member of your family, consult your physician without delay. Be sure that he is a licensed M.D. from an accredited school of medicine. Then bring your prescriptions to us for expert compounding.
