SPORTSLIGHTNER 11 1/2 m—Sunday sports. More mighty sharp pre-conference competition for the Oregon and Oregon State basketballers first of this week. Oregon draws perhaps the more lusty foe in the oft-valuable "Phog" Allen and his Kansas Jayhawks Monday and Tuesday nights at Eugene. On the same nights the Slats take on the team which is liked for the southern division title this season, California's Golden Bears. Either pitch should be palatable to the cage customers. . . . Odd thing about the Portland Beaver 11x14 inch Christmas card which carries the pictures of 25 players and five more assorted directors and managers. Ted Gullis is nowhere to be found on it, and Tall Ted is very much a part of the Bevo class. An oversight no doubt, but not very flattering to the former Senator skipper. . . . Speaking of skippers, Bill (Ball) Brenner has been rehired to boss the Vanocovers again next season, a certainty since Bill won the WFL pennant last year. As for Sam J. Francis Wilson, no less than Big Boss George Emigh himself intitles that Jack very likely will be back to herd the townies again. . . .

CHUCK FINLEY

Upon his return to Walla Walla with his Whitman eagles, Coach Don (Lindy) Lindbergh wasted no time in telling the natives what a fine pair of basketball men the Whites ran into in their game with Willamette. The pair would of course be the incredible Bob and Jim Johnson who are most certainly destined to add a broad chapter to WU's basketball album. It isn't the feeble competition which is making the Johnsons shine either. Both John Warren and Slat Gill have as much as wished they had the brother act. And you'll my was and still is a mighty mad Mr. Kohen. . . . From all we've been able to gather on the guy, new Idaho Basketball Coach Chuck Finley isn't only one of the newest members of the northern division family, but he's also the Idaho's pessimist. He waits his Vandals, even with 6-foot 9-inch veteran Jack Phoenix can't possibly win not only a single conference game but also vary a one in non-conference play. Which of course remains to be seen. Finley comes to the conference well heeled in reputation, however. He was an All-American selection under Hank Iba at Marysville (Mo.) State Teachers in 1932 and later played professionally for the New York Celtics. . . . An interesting tale of "Why They're Vandals" also is contained in the Idaho basketball dope booklet. This month marks the 27th anniversary of the northern athletic name. Back in 1918 when Idaho's pessimist was running rampant in Northwest basketball circles, the sportswriters were calling them "The Wrecking Crew." Dean Edward Maslin Hulme thought the Idahoans were like the Norsemen of old. The sports editor on the school paper agreed and began using the appellation "Vandals." It has stuck ever since. Only the Idaho basketball team was known as Vandals until 1921. Thereafter all of Idaho's athletic teams have carried the nickname. . . .

The New York Yankees have called up Catcher Charley Silveira, overworked maskman with Portland last season. And if all-around Yankee catching in the work series is an indication, Silveira may well stay with the varsity. He most certainly will if he has only to beat one Yogi Berra out of a job, for Berra's defensive performance in the classic was comparable to that of one of our WFL rookies in the throes of a do-nothing-right slump. . . . So far the he or she who made off with Sammie Sammie Kohen's kismess ($120 worth of same) last Tuesday night while Samuel was doing his chores hasn't returned it for the $10 reward. Which in a wee way serves Sammy right. Were he of the fair-haired instead of the foul-heeled species of mascot, no one would put the pinch on his gear. No doubt some irked fellow (and they get rather peeved at Sammy) pilfered the gorgeous robe just for spite. If such is so, whoever did it accomplished his purpose. Sam-

Bowls Feature Cream of Grid Outfits; Army Rejects Davis Discharge Request

Four Unbeaten IIs on Slate

NEW YORK, Dec. 27—(AP)—Michigan in the Rose Bowl, Penn State in the Cotton Bowl and Westchester (Pa.) Teachers and Missouri Valley in the Cigar Bowl are the only teams with unblemished records which will participate in the 15 football extravaganzas on New Year's day. In all, the 30 teams boast an aggregate record of 241 victories, 47 defeats and 10 ties for a .934 percentage. Besides the four unbeaten and untied eleven, three others — Southern Methodist in Cotton Bowl, Kansas in the Orange and Miami in the Sun Bowls — went through the regular campaign without a defeat. Headed by Texas, Georgia Tech and Southern California, nine squads lost one game apiece, eight dropped two games, a couple were on the short end of three games, while Texas Tech, Christian, Arkansas and Georgia suffered four setbacks each. Only two bowl games will feature battles between unbeaten eleven, with Westchester Teachers and Missouri Valley boasting perfect 10-0-0 records in the Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Fla. But for SMU's 19-19 tie with Texas Christian in its final game of the regular season, the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Tex., would also have featured a clash between two teams with spotless records, as the Mustangs meet Penn State with a 9-0 record. The Rose Bowl opponents have a loss and tie between them, both on Southern California's slate. The Trojans have won seven. Michigan, of course, knocked off nine straight opponents to capture the Big Nine title in a breeze. Kansas and Georgia Tech, in the Orange Bowl at Miami, also show only one loss between them in regular season play. The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans brings together two of the strongest teams in the nation in Alabama and Texas. The fact that neither was able to escape unscathed. The remaining bowls are as follows: Delta Bowl (Memphis, Tenn.)—Missouri (6-2-0) vs. Texas Christian (4-2-0). Gator Bowl (Jacksonville, Fla.)—Miami (6-2-0) vs. Georgia Tech (6-2-0). Dixie Bowl (Birmingham, Ala.)—William and Mary (9-1-0) vs. Arkansas (6-4-0). Rainier Bowl (Fresno, Calif.)—College of Pacific (8-1-0) vs. Wichita (6-2-0). Salad Bowl (Phoenix, Ariz.)—North Texas State (10-1-0) vs. Nevada (6-2-0). Tangerine Bowl (Orlando, Fla.)—Cattaraugus (10-1-0) vs. Marshall (W.Va.) (6-2-0). Pineapple Bowl (Honolulu)—U. of Hawaii (6-2-0) vs. Redlands (4-2-0). Harbor Bowl (San Diego)—San Diego State (7-3-1) vs. Hardin-Simmons (6-2-0).

They'll Host the Big Meet

When Oregon's annual state bowling tournament takes over the Salem Capitol alleys early next month, these two geni will be the hosts for the classic. They are alleys-to-owners "Tex" Keel (left) and Waver Koston. The tournament is set to start January 8.

Professional Hopes Smashed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27—(AP) Glenn Davis was denied permission to resign from the army by the war department today, the second time the All-America halfback's plea to enter the pro football ranks has been rejected in six months. Davis, now a second lieutenant stationed at Fort Riley, Kas., accepted the ruling philosophically at the home of his parents in Claremont, Calif., where he is spending the holidays. "Naturally, I'm disappointed. I had hoped to play professional football next year. But orders are orders and it goes without saying that I'll abide by them," explained the player who made the Associated Press All-America team three successive years. Although he did not identify the professional eleven with which he hoped to play, it was certain to be a California team. Draft rights to Davis are owned by Los Angeles of the National league and by San Francisco of the All-America conference. Last June, Davis and his All-America teammate, Fullback Felix (Doc) Blanchard, asked the war department that the usual six-week furlough given new graduates of West Point be extended three months so that the pair might play pro football. It was denied. Blanchard, now a second lieutenant in the air corps, said last week when Davis' second attempt to leave the service became known, that he intended to make the army his career.

Ducks Trample Springfield 5

EUGENE, Ore., Dec. 27—(AP)—An undersized Springfield college basketball team tonight lost its seventh game in eight starts on a transcontinental tour, taking a 69-40 walloping at the hands of Oregon. The Massachusetts team could not score against taller Oregon until four minutes had gone by when forward Pat Huntington dropped in a free-throw to make the score 10-1. The invaders did not tally from the field until after 14 minutes and 5 seconds of play. Oregon played reserves the last 10 minutes of the half, and held a 27-12 advantage at the intermission. Forward Jim Bartlett led Oregon scoring with 18 points.

Pro Title Clash Today

the Philadelphia Eagles for the National football league championship in snow-swept Comiskey park tomorrow, ending the longest season in league history. For the game, which probably will attract 38,000 to 40,000 spectators, partly cloudy skies and temperatures in the low 30's were predicted. The kickoff will be at 1:05 p.m. (CST). The odds favoring the Cardinals, twice triumphant over the Eagles this season, settled at 12 points tonight. This margin comes from the fact that the Cardinals defeated their opponents, 38 to 21, in a pre-season exhibition game, and then walloped them, 45 to 21, during the regular league play. Tomorrow's battle marks the first appearance of both teams in the championship playoffs. The Cardinals won their initial western division title by upsetting their rival Chicago Bears, while the Eagles qualified by crushing Pittsburgh last Sunday in the east's divisional playoff.
