

NOME, Jan. 2 - Only the tail section and pieces of burned wreckage (top) remained after an Army B29 crashed 95 miles north of Nome while on a training flight, but it was home for six of cemetery beautiful. The head eight fliers aboard for a week until two daring Alaska bush pilots in small planes made their rescue. Below one of the fliers is being helped to one of the rescue planes. These pictures were made by Bud Richter, Nome photographer who accompanied the rescue planes, in 30 to 40 degrees below zero weather. The pictures were then flown to Seattle. # Aumsville Couple AUMSVILLE-Mr. and Mrs. D Arthur Lowe of Los Angeles, accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Mountain drove to Yakima, Wash. for the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lowe.

En route to Yakima, they visited Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Mountain, Donald and Maralyn Mountain and Mrs. Alice Lowe and Diana Lowe, all of Portland. In Yakima a niece of Mountain, Mrs. Sabrah Vedas held open house Christmas night for the visitors and for all the Mountain relatives in Yakima. The hostess chose a most unique and charming manner of serving refreshments. All of the men were seated at one table so that they could discuss politics or a reducing diet for income taxes or what had they, while all of the women were seated at another table where they spent a jolly hour discussing home problems and-er-just reducing diet or what had they.

Before turning homeward Mr. and Mrs. Lowe and Mr. and Mrs. Mountain drove to Richland, near the city of the atomic bomb, where Mountain served several years as aged principal of schools 30 years ago. Federal housing for atomic bomb employes covered the entire part of the country the Mountain family remembered, and they child landmarks. Their own residence had been replaced by federal buildings.
