

Lebanon to Improve Sewers

LEBANON — The heavy rains have brought into prominence the season problem of surface water disposal which is a greater difficulty in Lebanon than in many places because the town lies on a low tract of land hardly as high as the banks of the Santiam river under normal conditions. Under flood conditions, serious floods have resulted. Every winter some basements are wet and to carry away this surplus water, a system of storm sewers is being enlarged and improved. The city is putting in two main arteries along Main and Grove streets which will receive drainage from laterals from both the east and the west ends of town. At the next meeting of the council a revised ordinance will be outlined providing for the construction and extension of trunk lines and laterals and for the proportional assessment of property on the streets to be drained in the various drainage improvement districts. The new plan will allow the assessment of property owners on streets which are drained by the trunk or lateral sewers even though such a storm sewer does not run down the street on which the property abuts.

Drains will not be run along every street in town, but will be laid so as to drain the largest possible areas. Background for this development of drainage improvement districts is the provision of the city charter for assessment of property owners for street improvements and storm sewers which are street improvements. The first storm sewers like the first paving was paid for out of the general tax fund. Extension of both paving and storm sewers is being made by assessments.
