16-The Statesman, Salem, Oregon, Friday, January 30, 1948_ Do or Die for Beaver Quint

One of the lesser foes on Willamette U's Northwest conference vision basketball series that is expected to go a long way towards tonight, but no one can convince Skipper Johnny Lewis that his determining the 1948 champion starts here Friday night when the cage schedule goes postward with the Bearcats in the WU arena charges are in for an easy time with the Pacific U Badgers. The strong Washington Huskies play the Oregon State Beavers in Men's game is No. 7 in league play for the Cats, and the Forest Grovers come equipped with but one victory in as many tries while the Methodists, in second place behind the lossless College of Puget Sounders, have won six of seven.

Lewis insists the visitors will be in perfect mental shape for the struggle, a factor that might prove to be upsetting to the Willamettes. And Willamette needs this win to keep within proper striking distance of the apparently potent CPS'ers.

The Lewis troupe downed the Badgers 51-41 in the opening game of the series at Forest Grove two weeks back, the smallest margin by which WU has downed any NW conference foe this season. Consequently the Cats will be taking their Sunday shots at the enemy tonight. They cannot afford a single loss from here to the wire. Along with the illustrious Johnsens-Forward Bob, Center Jim and Guard Ted-Lewis likely will floor Bobby Douglas and Tom Warren as his starting five. What scoring power the Pacifics will turn loose is expected to be led by Forward Arnold Thogerson and Guard Hal Whitbeck, both PU veterans. Game time is 8 o'clock. Probable lineups:

Mary Goodman's up and coming Frosh, victims of the Pacifics in an earlier game this season, will tangle with the Badger yearlings in tonight's prelim at 6:30 o'clock.

Two Top Tilts In WVL Round

WOODBURN, Jan. 29-(Special) With two games leading the list as features, the Willamette Valley league basketball teams Friday night play off the first round of the second half of the schedule. Those games find Estacada's leaders at Dallas and Silverton at Woodburn. Both the Foxes and Bulldogs are tied for third place. Dallas' up-and-coming Dragons expect to give the hard-running Estacada team a tough struggle in the friendly surroundings of their own gym.

In the other two Friday games Sandy plays at Canby and Mt.

Much of Washington's expected success against Oregon State Friday and Saturday nights at Corvallis is wrapped up in Center Jack Nich-ols (above), giant pivoteer. He'll be a marked man on the Beaver side in the crucial conference series.

Salem Academy and Independence high sneaked in their Marion - Polk league basketball game last night at the armory, instead of tonight as scheduled, and the West Salem quint came out with its fourth straight victory, 33-30. Mex Ball Bosses Tiff

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29-(AP)-Alejandro Aguilar Reyes, commissioner of Mexican baseball, doesn't like to be called a "domestic problem" by Jorge Pasquel, millionaire Mexican sportsman who owns all but one of the league clubs here. The decision on who is going to boss the Mexican ieague is far from settled, Aguilar Reyes said today. He said he would talk with the club presidents to learn if they agreed with Pasquel's plan to go to Cuba to "sign the best players for Mexico."

Pasquel said in New York he would go to Cuba Saturday or Sunday and that "when I return I will have a talk with Reyes." He said Aguilar Reyes was a "domestic problem."

Aguilar Reyes had been discussing possible return of the Mexican league to organized ball, and had planned to go to the U.S. to talk with George Trautman, minor league chief.

Kahut Tuning For Comeback

Tony Kahut, prewar fistic fav-orite in many Salem fights, has moved from his Woodburn home into Portland to make ready for his comeback appearance on next Wednesday's fight card at the armory. Kahut is to meet Jack Laken of Sacramento in a middleweight scrap. His manager, John Friend, took Kahut to Portland for better training facilities when it was learned that Laken is one of San Francisco Matchmaker Joe Herman's younger prizes and that he is very capable of spoiling the Kahut return to ring action.

Middleweight Joey Albina, who biffs with Salem's Bud Abney in the main event Wednesday, continued yesterday to hustle through tuneups by boxing solidly with Bobby Volk, the Portlander who goes against Jack Snapp in the Rose City Tuesday night. Three 4-round prelims will be added to the Salem show later this week.
