Richard Eoff Asks 24 Hours To Enter Plea

Entry of plea by Richard Eoff 1180 Oak st., on a charge of assault with intent to kill, being armed with a dangerous weapon, is scheduled for this morning in Marion county district court.

Eoff, arrested late Wednesday by city police following an alleged attack on a local woman, appeared in court Tuesday and took 24 hours to plead. He is being held in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bail.

The attack, Tuesday about noon, was made upon Mrs. Lillian Gardner, 889 Oak st., who was beaten over the head with a flashlight, police said. City police said Mrs. Gardner told them that her assailant was being shown through her house on the pretext that he was interested in buying. She said he struck her while she was placing a ladder to enable him to reach the attic.

Her screams brought a boarder, U. R. Mills, from the basement. Told that she had fallen from the ladder, he permitted the stranger to leave, while he called first aid men, who notified police. Eoff was arrested during a house-to-house search by police, based upon

Wallet Found By Plumbers

A billfold apparently lost or stolen in 1943 was unearthed here Thursday and turned over to Marion County Sheriff Denver Young.

No cash was contained, but return to the owner, A. P. Ramseyer, was impossible due to his absence from the city. The sheriff said a plumber found the billfold stuffed behind the water tank in a restroom at the Harbison service station, Chemekeeta and High streets. It contained about $107 in checks of small amounts, dated in 1943. At that time Ramseyer was a High street garageman. Also attached was the badge of a special deputy sheriff.

Postal Receipts Score Gains

Salem postal receipts this January chalked up a 16.7 per cent gain over receipts of January, 1947, despite the heavy mailing of the state legislature which was in session a year ago.

Noting that this indicated the continued growth of Salem area population, Postmaster Albert Gragg said receipts last month totaled $69,384.70, as compared with $59,776.83 in the same month a year ago.

Gragg also disclosed that applications for substitute clerk and carrier at Salem postoffice are now being taken and civil service examination will determine appointment. Application forms may be obtained at the general delivery window of the local postoffice.

Other alteration projects include $1,000 house alteration
