

Miss Nancy Stricklin Married

Exciting romantic news comes from the east telling of the marriage of a Salem girl, Miss Nancy Stricklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stricklin, to James F. Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Mitchell of Westboro, Mass. The rites were quietly solemnized on Friday afternoon, February 6, at the Emanuel church in Boston. The Rev. Mettler officiated at the 8:15 o'clock nuptials.

For her wedding the pretty, tall, blonde bride wore a black wool costume suit with ballerina skirt and short, fitted jacket of grey, black and white shadow stripe with accented hips. Her large, felt hat and accessories were black. For "something old" she carried her grandmother's white lace handkerchief.

Miss Nancy Green was the bride's only attendant and Warren Corberg of Boston was best man for the benedict.

The newlyweds are spending their honeymoon in Boston at the Statler hotel.

The bride is a graduate of Williamette university and is a member of Pi Beta Phi. She also was a member of the Salem Spinners. She is now a registered occupational therapist at Cushing Veterans' Administration hospital at Framingham, Mass. She took her training at Mills college, Baxter General hospital in Spokane and Dibble General hospital at Menlo Park, Calif. Before going to Framingham she was on the staff of Moore hospital at Swannanoa, N. C. The new Mrs. Rowe expects to come west in March for a visit here with her parents.

Mr. Rowe served as a pilot with the army air corps during the war. He attended Harvard university and is now taking graduate work in journalism at Boston university. He has been on the staff of the Boston Post. The couple will take an apartment in Boston this spring.

ITS TRAVEL TIME . . . If this year's any indication, the winter months definitely probe to be popular for vacationists . . . with the many travelers going for a longer stay now than during the summer . . . Seemingly dozens are leaving for the south or east each week and at the same time others returning from sojourns . . . It certainly keeps us busy keeping track of those in town and those that are away . . . but when the telephones don't answer we're sure they're basking in the warm sunny south . . .

Farthest away . . . Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hrubetz are headed for Miami and Tampa, Florida, for a vacation . . . While in Miami they will be guests of friends aboard a yacht . . . They will return in two weeks by way of Texas and Palm Springs . . .

Popular resort . . . for a majority of the Salem people in Palm Springs . . . It will be just like old home week when they congregate for swimming, golfing, dining and dancing . . . Mrs. Asa Eoff, who goes to Palm Springs each year, is now there . . . she will be joined later by her husband . . . The Eoffs take their trailer house which has proven most delightful and successful . . . The Keith Browns, who went south right after the first of the year, lived in the trailer house at first . . . Mr. Brown is already home and she will follow shortly . . .

The Robert Herralls and daughter, Linda, have left by car for a leisurely trip south . . . with stops at Del Monte, Santa Barbara and Palm Springs . . . Home this weekend from a fortnight's sojourn south will be the Hollis Huntingtons and Wayne Loders . . . Their first stop was San Francisco, where they bid au revoir to the Huntingtons' daughter, Shirley who sailed the end of January for Honolulu . . . Since fall she has been living in the bay city . . . The two couples went further south to Santa Barbara, Del Monte, San Diego and Palm Springs before returning north . . .

Leaving Monday for California will be the Paul Wallaces and their youngest daughter, Paulie, who will go as far as San Francisco with her parents . . . The Wallaces, after a week will drive on to Santa Barbara, Riverside, Palm Springs and San Diego . . . they plan to be away until mid-March . . .

The Donald Madisons are also spending the remainder of the month in southern California . . . they plan to go into Mexico before returning home . . . Accompanying them on the trip was his aunt, Mrs. J. Frank Spinning of Echo . . .

Later in the month Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stevens and the Alfred Geringers will drive down for a stay at Palm Springs . . . they will be joined by the Howard Eismanns, who will fly down in their own plane . . .

EASTWARD BOUND . . . the Tinkham Gilberts are entraining Monday night for Chicago for a ten day stay . . . In the "windy city" Mr. Gilbert will attend the Presbyterian laymen's conference as a delegate of the Salem presbytery . . . The Gilberts will also visit relatives in St. Paul and Minneapolis before coming west . . . Mrs. Oscar Laudahl will board the streamliner on Thursday for a month's trip to the middle west and east . . . Her first stop will be in Fremont, Nebraska to visit her two daughters, Shirley, a sophomore, and Donna, a freshman, who are attending Midland college . . . The traveler will then go on to Minneapolis for a short stay . . .

ARMY JOTTINGS . . . Salem and Portland friends of Mrs. Jean Hollstein bid her bon voyage this past week . . . with her two daughters, Linda and six months old Stephanie, she sailed from Seattle for Hachinobe, Japan, to join Captain Hollstein, a former Salem resident . . . He has been there a year with the 11th air borne U. S. army . . . He has a house ready for his family on their arrival . . . While waiting to sail Mrs. Hollstein and the girls have been in Portland with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Meyer . . . Captain Hollstein is a Salem high school graduate and the son of Mrs. W. G. Wildig of Salem . . . Both he and his wife attended Oregon State college and his fraternity is Phi Delta Theta . . .

Last minute transfer . . . such as the army will do . . . Just as Wallace and Virginia Witwer were ready to leave for Tacoma and Fort Lewis orders came from Washington telling them to report to Albuquerque, New Mexico . . . So they turned around and drove south with son, Richard . . . Lt. Witwer is with the counter-intelligence corps . . . No living quarters were obtainable, so they bought a house and furnished it . . . A pretty, mountain city and lots of snow . . . The altitude is so high that Virginia has had to change her recipes and cook with less sugar and baking powder . . .

MOVING TIME . . . Stuart and Mary Kathryn Compton are moving this week to a cottage in Whitehall Court, the one formerly occupied by the Richard Cooleys, who have moved to a larger one next door . . . The Compton's new address will be 946 D street . . .

The Delwin Finleys and daughters, Ann Lee and Jill, who have been in Portland for several years, are moving back to Salem as soon as they sell their East Moreland home . . . Mr. Finley, who has been in the cannery business, has purchased the Toy Shop, now to be known as the Toy and Hobby shop . . .

The AAUW music study group will meet at the home of Mrs. George Allen, 1010 N. 21st street Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Frank Burlingham will give the program on Beethoven's vocal music. She will sing three of Beethoven's songs, accompanied by Miss Alice Crane. The rest of the program will consist of a talk and records of other vocal music including Beethoven's opera "Fidelio." Tea will be served by the hostess.

The Eastern Star social afternoon club will meet Tuesday at the Masonic temple for a 1:15 o'clock dessert luncheon. Cards will be in play during the afternoon. The committee includes Mrs. E. T. Armstrong, chairman, Mesdames Herman Johnston, Ray E. Bates, W. E. Knower, Arthur Utley, J. A. Brownson, Chester Armstrong, C. S. Pratt, Fay H. Collins and Miss Ulva Derby.

The Salem Business and Professional Women's club will hold its monthly recreational party Tuesday night at the Salem Women's clubhouse at 8 o'clock. The evening program will include cards, sewing and music. Mrs. LaVerne Hardwicke, chairman of the recreation committee, is making arrangements for the party.

The Marion-Polk county medical auxiliary will be entertained Tuesday night at the country home of Mrs. Lewis Clark on route 8. A seven o'clock dessert supper will be served with Mrs. Robert F. Wulf, Mrs. Maynard Shiffer and Mrs. Harold Schneider assisting the hostess. Dr. Horace Miller will be the guest speaker and presiding at the meeting will be Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, president.

The Salem Junior Woman's club will hold a business meeting Monday night at the clubhouse at 8 o'clock with a board meeting preceding at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lawrence Stoddard is in charge of the social evening. Plans will be made for the past president's banquet on February 23 at Normandy Manor.

Mrs. Stewart Johnson has invited members of the Modern Drama class to her North Summer street home Tuesday afternoon for a one o'clock luncheon.

SALEM HEIGHTS—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Petzel (Mary Skelton) were honored with a party Wednesday night when Miss Lydia Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krater and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Peterson entertained at the Community hall. Mr. and Mrs. T. T. King and their son Jack furnished music.

Following the entertainment gifts were given to the couple. At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostesses.
