Woodburn Cycle Shop Is Sold to Beckwiths

WOODBURN — Sale of the Woodburn Cycle shop to Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Beckwith, former owners, by E. E. Buchanan has been announced. Buchanan retained ownership of the building. Beckwiths will carry new and used merchandise as they did up until they sold to Buchanan a year ago. Recently Beckwith has been employed by the Farmers Union Co-op here.

Unionvale Church Scene Of Bridal Shower Party

UNIONVALE—Social rooms of the local church were decorated with the valentine motif for a miscellaneous shower honoring Pat Stockhoff Friday night. Games were played by 40 guests present. Little Barbara Bennett, attired as cupid, presented a wagonload of gifts to the honor guest.

Hostesses were Mrs. Marion Dixon, Mrs. Alonzo Ledford and Mrs. Robert Bennett. Miss Stockhoff is the bride-elect of Jamie Ediger. They will be married in the First Methodist Church in McMinnville, February 22.

Ranch Ramblings

Joe Doerfler, who filbert farms in the Waldo Hills area, sold his Powell Butte ranch — at least the most of it — and plans to devote his time to the filberts and some bent grass plantings he has. He is thinking of putting some sub clover into the bent to improve the soil. Joe and his wife, Una, at one time had a walnut orchard but after it was 15 years old took it out. They said that walnuts do not produce too well on the hill soil on their ranch. The trees don't seem to grow much after they reach 15 years, but the filberts do very well.

Glenn Schaeffer, chairman of the Clackamas horticultural planning committee, says that berry growers in his area are becoming quite conscious of erosion in the berry fields. "Gully erosion is becoming all too common between berry rows," says Glenn, "and I expect to establish contour furrows in my fields next year. My soil is too valuable to be washed down the river."

Martin Widdows of Canby farms some land of poor drainage. He says that he has obtained an excellent stand of big trefoil (lotus major) last spring by broadcast-inoculated seed on old pasture sod. Martin reports that Ellis Brown has also been using this method of trefoil plantings on the coast with excellent results. Good trefoil seed can now be purchased for around $1.25 a pound, or a little more than one-half of last year's price. Three or four pounds of seed per acre seems to be adequate for establishing good stands. It does well on fern lands. Early growth may be pastured off in May and early June, after which a hay crop may be cut in early August at which time the weatherman takes a vacation and weather is good for harvesting, Martin claims.

The growers point out, however, that disadvantages are that stands are sometimes difficult to obtain and some are fearful that big trefoil might, like hairy vetch, be difficult to eradicate. Sellers of seed should be able to furnish inoculated soil.

Unemployment Reserve Fund Given Boost

With Oregon payrolls continuing at record highs in 1948, contributions from employers for the last quarter approached $3,000,000, to increase the state unemployment current reserve fund to $78,477,188, officials reported Thursday.

This is more than $1,000,000 above the previous high last November. Officials predicted that quarterly collections would more than offset benefits to bring the fund well above the $80,000,000 mark before the end of the year. Many counties, especially Douglas, Linn and other lumber producers, were reporting more wages to workers for one month than for entire years before the war. Gains from 1946 levels were equally as startling, officials declared. Eight counties, Wheeler, Grant, Jefferson, Curry, Tillamook, Douglas, Coos and Washington, reported more payrolls in the first three quarters of 1947 than for the entire previous year.

Salem Rifle Club Marksmen Vie

Salem Rifle club practice at the Salem armory Thursday night showed T. Fennel top marksmen for the night's shooting with a score of 186. Placing and showing were K. Graber with 165 and J. Sylvester with 146, respectively. The club meets each Thursday for target practice, reports George Nunn, secretary.

Charges Result From Silverton Auto Accident

SILVERTON, Feb. 12.—Walter Falhaber and Larry Hoffman, both of Silverton, will appear in justice court here today to answer to charges growing out of an accident Thursday afternoon, according to Silverton police.

Falhaber is charged with assault and battery while Hoffman is charged with assault and battery; failure to give name and address at the scene of an accident and with having no operator's license.

Police reported that the car Hoffman was driving was involved in an accident with one driven by Dr. N. L. Dodds of Silverton, Thursday afternoon at the corner of Welch and Cherry streets. Falhaber is released on $250 bail and Hoffman on $750 bail.
