

Little Gardeners Hold Meeting

SALEM HEIGHTS — Twenty members and guests of the Little Garden club of Salem Heights were entertained at a desert luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. B. Johnston. Mrs. L. R. Judson assisted the hostess on Thursday. Welcome as guests were Mrs. Charles E. Roblin and Mrs. E. A. Welling.

Mrs. Ralph Cartwright presided during the business meeting. Five dollars was voted for the purchase of seed to be sent to Europe, enough to make ten family gardens. Plans were made to encourage the planting of crab-apple trees along Liberty and Skyline roads. Mrs. L. L. Bennett gave a report on books in the club library including two new ones recently added.

The group accepted the invitation of the Friendly Neighbor Garden club to meet with them March 3 at 8 p.m. at the home of L. A. Larson on Hulsey avenue, to hear Mrs. James T. Brand speak on "European Flowers."

Mrs. B. O. Schucking spoke to the club on "House Plants and How to Have Them Easily" and "New Ways of Flower Arrangement." The next meeting will be February 26 at the home of Mrs. James Bradshaw.

The Business and Professional Women's all-Schubert program date has been set for April 20. The concert, under the direction of Jessie Bush Mickelson, music chairman, will include choral, solo and smaller group numbers, similar to the Stephen Foster program of last year.

Cookery was the most popular project at the thirty 4-H club training meeting for Marion county held in Salem at the YMCA Saturday. Esther Taskerde, assistant state club agent, directed the cookery club project. Finding many of the clubs nearing the end of the term scheduled meetings, she suggested that they take up studies in etiquette and table manners to round out the club project.

Home making was second in point of interest with Carmalita Weddle directing the work. Mrs. Ethel Guibin, assisted by Edna Riney, county club agent, led livestock projects and Constance Hampton, clothing projects.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Pierce of Aumsville were present. Mrs. Pierce is camp cookery leader in Aumsville and attended the first training meeting at Stayton. Reporting on the progress of the club Mrs. Pierce told Miss Taskerde she had to "sample 31 biscuits" last week, indicating that the club had at least 31 members.

The 11 sons of her own under 17 years of age, Mrs. Pierce is popular with the camp cookery boys, county club leaders report.
