Constable Says New Campaign Heads Listed

The industrial division for the American Red Cross fund campaign which will open here March 1 will meet at noon today for luncheon in the Red Cross headquarters to outline plans. H. R. Maille is chairman for this division.

Three more chairmen were named to the fund campaign directorate Monday by L. A. Ballmer, general drive chairman. They included Orval Lama, automotive; Harold Phillippe, governmental division, and Glen Wade, professional group.

Other division leaders under Ballmer, and Fred B. Keeler, co-chairman, are Frank Test, contractor; Preston Doughton, education; Loring M. Grier, mercantile; Lawrence N. Flagg, utilities; Mrs. Floyd Utter, Mrs. Guy N. Hickok, residential (women's division); Mrs. M. J. Steinbock, suburban; Robert M. Fischer, Jr., publicity; Paul Shepard, rural chairman.

Smith charged that "in an attempt to get plaintiff to stop and in an attempt to frighten him," he fired one shot from his revolver with the weapon pointed downward. If the bullet did hit Hunter in the leg, Smith alleges, it ricocheted from the pavement and "such impact was purely accidental." Smith asks that the complaint be dismissed as he was "only doing his duty as a peace officer."

'Bombsight' Theft Brings Arrest of 2 Juveniles Here

Two 14-year-old junior high school boys were arrested by city police on charges of stealing Buick "bombsight" radiator ornaments as thefts of the rings continued over the week end, city police reported.

One youth is charged with taking an ornament from the car of Chester Rollins, 310 N. 17th st., while the vehicle was parked at the residence Saturday night. Both boys are being held in juvenile headquarters at Salem Memorial hospital pending further investigation, police said.

Police reported Monday two more ornaments were taken from the auto of Hattie J. Black, 1140 Columbia st., in the 200 block of South Church street, and from F. T. Braggs, 1945 Hazel ave., both on Saturday night.

C. G. Lovesall, Independence, told police that two hubcaps were stolen from his car in the 500 block on Chemeketa street, and J. B. Swigart reported the theft of a motor and transmission from his wood yard at South 25th street and Turner road, both on Saturday night.

Sunday Morning Fire Destroys Dallas House

DALLAS, Feb. 16—Fire of undetermined origin Sunday morning destroyed the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Allister in North Dallas. Within three minutes of its discovery at 10:30 a. m. the entire house was in flames and the family were able to save nothing. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Allister, their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Allister and a grandchild were in the house at the time.

Dallas fire department responded but were unable to halt the flames. The house was a story and a half structure belonging to Mrs. Ballard of Toledo. The family found temporary quarters with relatives in South Dallas.
