Many Notables Among 300 for Ball Banquet

The Salem Breakfast club's first annual banquet attended by a capacity throng of 300 assorted diamond greats of the past and present, miner leaguers, baseball executives, Legion Junior players, athletic coaches, state, county and city officials and plain diamond fans, rolled off in great style last night at Marion hotel. The lively powwow, first of its kind in $4lem and certainly the biggest ever held in Oregon, convinced the sponsoring clubbers it was only the beginning of similar baseball get - togethers every spring here. A scant few of the notables expected to attend failed to show, because of other commitments. but these who did join in to help make the banquet the success it was far overshadowed those who couldn't make it. Western International President Robert B. Abel of Tacoma was principal speaker and delivered his interesting opinion of the league and its future. Dorsett (Tubby) Graves, longtime University of Washington coach, also rendered a stirring talk on what baseball and all team athletics mean to the youth of America. Harry V. Collins, president of the Breakfast club was master of ceremonies and introduced the 40 special guests who were present.

These introductions: Curt Coleman, Carl Mays, Moose Clabaugh, Johnny Oravec, Wade Williams, Johnny Lewis, Howard Maple, Bill Klepper, Wes Schulmerich, Ed Brauner, Henry Lever, Bill Mulligan and Jack Curry, all ex-leaguers and diamond associates from the majors on down; Bill Bevens, Larry Jansen, Harvey Storey, Pete Jonas, Joe Bielemeier, Al Russell. Ted Kerr. Bud Peterson, Duke Windsor, Vince Pesky, Bill Hanauska, Dick Gentskow, Rod Province, Mayo Smith, Bill Beard, Gene Peterson, Paul Halter, Bud Sporer, Lee Fallin, George Emigh, Freddie Hutchinson and Jack Wilson, all still active in the game; Al Schuss, Rollie Truitt, Bill Adams, Bob Thomlinson, radio breadcasters; Leonard Younce, of the New York Giants pro footballers, and Salem's 1947 American Legion Junior baseball team and its coaches Paul Reiling and Ira Pilcher.
