Defy the High Cost

Ground Beef, Served with Interesting Sauce Is High in Quality at Low Cost

By Maxine Boren
Statesman Woman's Editor

We've found that a pound of ground beef does more to bolster up the sinking spirits of the woman who finds it necessary to cut the budget (and what woman doesn't) than any other item at the meat man's.

A quarter's worth of ground beef, with an egg, some cracker meal or breadcrumbs and chopped onion, makes some pretty husky servings of meat for a small family.

A half pound of ground beef makes a loaf of considerable size and when served with a nice sauce, produces a main dish to be proud of.

Ground beef goes into wiled cabbage leaves and is cooked to make another nice dish.

But what about a sauce for the cakes or hamburger? Here are two to remember:

TOMATO SAUCE

Yield: 1 1/2 cups sauce.
2 tablespoons fat
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup minced onion
2 1/2 cups tomatoes
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground allspice
1 clove garlic
1 tablespoon flour

Melt fat in skillet. Add celery and onion and saute until tender and golden brown. Add tomatoes and seasonings. Split garlic clove and add. Simmer for 20 minutes. Strain. Add small amount of tomatoes to flour to make smooth paste. Remove garlic and without straining stir thickening into sauce and cook 3 to 4 minutes, until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Serve hot.

Variation: Cook ground beef patties in the sauce after seasonings have been added.

ONION SAUCE

Yield: 1 1/2 cups sauce
1 tablespoon fat
1 cup sliced onion
1 cup brown stock or bouillon
1 tablespoon flour

Melt fat in skillet. Add onion and cook slowly until tender and golden brown. Add stock and simmer about 5 minutes. Add small amount of liquid to flour to make smooth paste. Stir into remaining stock and cook 3 to 4 minutes until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Serve hot.
