Here's one place where COMFORT SETS THE STYLE

1. This gadget was the latest thing in headsets when grandmother was a girl. Matter of fact, it was the first headset in general use back in 1880. It weighed more than six pounds. It's a museum piece now, of course. Headset styles changed. They grew lighter, more comfortable, more efficient.

2. This chest-style model came along after many modifications of the old timer. Telephone engineers liked its voice "pick-up." Operators liked its lightness and the freedom of movement it gave. As transmitters became better, central offices became quieter and more pleasant places.

3. Today's newest streamlined set is tops for comfort, say operators who've used it. It weighs under six ounces. It's an example of how we're making equipment more comfortable . . . to make the company a pleasant place to work . . . the sort of place that helps attract the kind of people who make good service possible.

4. Here's why telephone jobs are good jobs: Pay is good—employees paid while training • Regular raises, overtime and premium pay • Steady work—telephone people can plan ahead • Benefit plan paid for entirely by company—covers sickness, death benefits and pensions • Advancement within company • Paid vacations and holidays.
