

Delegation at Farmers Union Meeting Large

The Oregon Farmers Union is represented by the largest delegation in years at the national convention of the organization which opened at Denver, Colo., Monday. The delegation is headed by Ronald E. Jones, state president, and Mrs. Jones who left Friday for Denver to permit Jones to attend a meeting of the executive board of the national organization of which he is a member.

Lyle Thomas, secretary, also left early to attend a pre-convention meeting of the program committee of which he is a member. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hicks, Sellers, are representing the juniors of Oregon, and are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Theron L. Hicks, members of the Spring Valley local in Polk county.

Arthur H. Bone, editor of the state paper, and J. P. Bentz, president of the Sublimity local, and William Jensen, member of the state executive board, Linn county, are also attending.

Salem Girl Assigned in Hawaii

Shirley Huntington (pictured above), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis W. Huntington of Salem route 1, has been appointed secretary in the American Red Cross office at Hickam air force base, Hawaii, according to an announcement by G. J. Ulrich (right), field director, stationed with the Pacific air command. Miss Huntington arrived in Honolulu on February 4, for her first visit to the Hawaiian Islands. A graduate of the University of Oregon with a B. S. degree in Journalism, she had served as field assistant with the ARC from November, 1945, to June, 1946. She had been stationed at Norfolk, Va.; Fort George M. Meade, Md.; New Cumberland and Carlisle Barracks, Pa. (Air force photo).

Donald M. Thomas, Salem route 9, passing on crest of hill, fined $5 and costs.

Carl Fred Palmer, Portland, passing with insufficient clearance, $5 fine suspended on payment of court costs.

Lincoln Wagener, 130 Hansen ave., parole given February 19 on charge of disorderly conduct revoked following hearing; committed to county jail to serve 30-day sentence.

Silverton Police Court

SILVERTON — Fined in police court for improper lights were George Smith, J. L. Merryman and Norman Komp, each $2; for having no operator's license, Duane Hugg and Fred Lucht, Mt. Angel, each $2; violation of basic rule, Ed Bollinger, $7.50; illegal parking, William Bloch, D. L. Lyons, Tom Relling, Dale Krug, M. G. Gunderson, Harry L. Riches, M. G. Robertson, G. Smith, F. M. Johnson, Ronald Asboe and Marion Brandt, each $1; Samuel Sorenson, Salem, forfeited $15 bail on a charge of drunkenness.

Arthur Dahl, police judge, found Carl Tony Hoffard, driver for the Evan Lumber company mill, and Oscar Loe, not guilty on charges of violating the basic rule.

Court Denies Bringing Band

The state supreme court Tuesday affirmed Circuit Judge Walter Toosa, Multnomah county, who denied damages in a libel action growing out of a divorce suit between David W. Levell and his wife. Mrs. Levell's mother sued Levell for libel on the ground that his evidence in court falsely accused her of bad morals.

The mother, Mrs. Lura H. Strycker, sued both Levell and Albert Johnson, another witness in the court proceedings. The opinion was written by Justice James T. Brand.

The high court also upheld a Washington county circuit court judgment which refused damages to Gustav R. Carlson in his suit against John Wagberg. Carlson contended he was injured in an automobile accident while riding with Wagberg. The court ruled that Wagberg was guilty of ordinary negligence but that gross negligence must be proven before a guest passenger can collect from the driver.

Only one court decision: In the matter of the estate of Lillian R. Christofferson, deceased; L. S. Christofferson and others, appellants, vs. Gerald Christofferson and others. Appeal from Marion county. Contest of a will. Opinion by Justice J. O. Bailey. Judge E. M. Page affirmed.

Saw Attachment Invented Here

C. Roy Carr, Inventor, Adds Saw to Tractor

A simple saw attachment has been invented for tractors by C. Roy Carr, Salem route 1, box 367A. This attachment in a few minutes enables the operator of the tractor to buck logs into cord wood and then by the same attachment cut the cord wood into fire wood.

The saw consists of a frame having a circular saw mounted to an arbor journaled in bearings on the frame and adapted to be driven from the power takeoff of the tractor. The frame is adapted to be connected to the lifting mechanism of the tractor. The controls of the tractor raising and lowering the saw into the work while bucking logs, of holding the saw at a predetermined elevation while cutting the cord wood.

One of the outstanding features of the method of mounting the saw is that the frame of the saw can be used to push the logs around to the proper position for sawing and a removable sliding table is mounted to the frame of the saw cut cutting cord wood. Arrangements have been made for the manufacturing with Truman Cummings, owner of the Cummings Machine works, Salem, by J. T. Anderson, Co-ordinator of Inventions, Portland, who has just completed making the patent drawings for Carr.

Nohlgren Outlines Plot of Novel in Jaycee Speech

Ralph Nohlgren, local restaurateur, outlined the plot of "Mr. Adam," a novel by Pat Frank, in a humorous speech before the Junior Chamber of Commerce, at the Marion hotel Tuesday noon.

The speech dealt with the results of a mythical atom explosion which leaves all of the men in the world sterile except a Mr. Homer Adams, who was working in a lead mine at the time of the blast.

The dispute between various governmental agencies over the disposition of Mr. Adam provides a satire on "bureaucracy" which Nohlgren used as the subject of his talk.

Nohlgren told how the problem of civilization's survival is solved by the discovery of a potion which restores masculine fertility.
