Honoring John were Rona and Darlene Macklin of Eugene, Jimmie Morority, Linda Garrison, Bruce and Barry Spencer, Mrs. E. Garrison, Mrs. W. H. Harpet and Mrs. Sankster. The little boy's father is in the service and stationed in Honolulu.

Hostesses Fete Mrs. Hanson

Mrs. Neal Hanson was honor guest at an informal party Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Fred Pickhard and Mrs. George Barnes entertained at the Pickhard home on Jefferson street.

A shower fete Mrs. Hanson and tea was served by the hostesses. Arrangements of spring flowers and blossoms provided the decorative note.

Honoring Mrs. Hanson were Mrs. Walter Whitman, Mrs. Forrest Bodmer, Mrs. Truman Cummings, Mrs. Foster Wintermute, Mrs. Edward Lewis, Mrs. Malcolm Jones, Mrs. Allan Shaffer, Mrs. James Schuler, Mrs. Robert King, Mrs. Ralph Stangeby, Mrs. Raymond Warner, Mrs. Howard Walker, Mrs. Gary Owen, Mrs. Andrew Baker, Mrs. Arthur Hurlburt, Mrs. Selwyn Imlah and the hostesses.

The Misses Gertrude and Sharon Coffey, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Coffey of Portland, formerly of Salem, will spend the weekend in the capital at the Chester A. Downs home as guests of the Misses Suzanne and Joan Barnes.

Salore Group Hears Bennett

"What you amount to as an individual depends upon your choices." This statement was made by Mr. Frank Bennett as he addressed a group of Salore Club members and their guests Monday at Nohlgren's at YWCA's employed girls annual World Wide dinner.

In keeping with St. Patrick's day, the dinner table was decorated with shamrocks, Miss June Rowland played an accordion selection, "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Miss Lenore Kilgore presented greetings from other YWCA employed girls clubs and Miss Betty Dotson gave the invocation. Miss Gretchen Wright acted as toastmistress.

Visitors at Wallace's

Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Wallace have as their house guests this week, Mrs. Bruce R. Baxter of Pasadena, Calif. formerly of Salem, and Miss Margaret Trimble of Maplewood, N.J.

Mrs. Baxter, who arrived in the capital Wednesday night, came north for the dedication services on Saturday of Baxter hall on the Willamette university campus, which was named for her late husband, a former president of Willamette.

Miss Trimble, a cousin of Mr. Wallace, is spending her spring vacation here from Leland Stanford university, where she is taking post-graduate work. She is a graduate of Vassar.

Mrs. Jack Price was honored by her bridge club at a surprise shower Wednesday night when they were entertained at the home of Mrs. Andrew Halvorson on South Winter street.

Exhibit Given by Girl Scouts

Girl Scouts of troop 5, leader, Mrs. Lewis Mosier, gave an exhibit Tuesday night at First Congregational church. Displayed were arts and crafts, foods and sports, found in their homes which were made or had originated in foreign lands. Posters were made to depict the various countries, articles were labeled, and a bulletin board held a variety of subjects such as the Promise and Laws in Dutch and Spanish.

The exhibit was given in connection with the International Friendship project, and for the purpose of raising money for "Seeds of Peace," to be sent to countries of Europe.

Over a hundred attended, including members of the troop's sponsoring organization, the Mayflower Guild of the First Congregational church, Girl Scout leaders, Girl Scouts from other troops in Salem, and parents of the girls.

Girl Scouts participating in the project were Roberts Anderson, Marion Baum, Shirley Cagle, Orva Lynn Gemmill, Roberts Hamlin, Donna Rae Montgomery, Karen Perkins, Patsy Sexton and Janet Toelle.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dalke celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at an open house Thursday night at their country place in the Fruitland district. Friends called between 8 and 10 o'clock.

Silver Wedding For Dalke

Assisting the hosts about the rooms were Mrs. Carl Fisher, Miss Helen and Miss Evelyn Fisher, Mrs. Menno Dalke and Miss Alene Dalke, daughter of the hosts. The table was centered with an arrangement of daffodils and violets guarded by silver tapers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dalke have two other children, Bruce and Norman, who live in Seattle. The Dalkes have resided in Salem since their marriage 25 years ago in Aberdeen, Idaho.
