General Hershey on Salem Visit

MAJ. GEN. Lewis B. Hershey (left), national director of selective service, shown above greeting Brig. Gen. Raymond B. Olson, Oregon's assistant adjutant general, during a recent Salem visit. Arriving here during his nationwide inspection tour on the day President Truman called on congress for universal training and selective service legislation, General Hershey commented that in case of emergency the United States would be able to draft men even earlier than the 45-60 day estimate of time required to put into effect any draft program congress might enact. Carkin Refuses Jurisdiction over Traction Company

Public Utilities Commissioner John H. Carkin announced Saturday he would not assume jurisdiction involving the petition of the Portland Traction company for an increase of its fares in the city of Portland unless directed to do so by the courts.

"I am entirely in accord with Portland Commissioner Dorothy McCullough Les that it probably was not the intention of the 1947 legislature, when enacting the new state transportation code, to take from the citizens of Portland and their officials authority to regulate their own city traction lines", Carkin said.

His decision followed a conference here Wednesday at which Gordon Steele, Portland Traction company president, and other company officials, asked Carkin to accept a petition for a fare increase.

Heretofore fares of the company have been fixed by the Portland city commission.

City Council May Add to May 21 Ballot

Legislation aiming at city elections May 21, in conjunction with general elections, is on the agenda for Salem's city council Monday at 7:30 p. m. at Salem Chamber of Commerce.

Three bills which will be up for possible final action set a special election for that date, propose an $815,000 bond issue to finance the contemplated sewage disposal plant and seek a vote on annexation of a large territory to the southeast of present city boundaries.

A twice-delayed bill to require taximeters and to provide licensed street stands for taxicabs is also scheduled for consideration, and amendments are probable inasmuch as local taxi firms disagreed on the legislation when it first appeared before the council last month.

Public Works Law Excludes Firemen

Employees of municipal fire departments do not perform the type of work that places them within the scope of the public works contract law, with relation to hours of employment and overtime pay, Attorney General George Neuner held Saturday.

Neuner said virtually all municipalities have their own pay schedule along with working hour restrictions. The opinion was asked by W. E. Kimsey, state labor commissioner.

FARM OWNERS

If your farm machinery and equipment need repairs, perhaps we can save you money. It is often more economical to make repairs when they are needed than to wait and risk having to buy new machinery because of neglect. With the appearance of good weather, your farm machinery will be put to work and you will want it in good condition. If it is not in good condition now, you can save valuable time by having all your repairs done before our busy season begins. As many farmers who are already our customers know, we have been doing general metal fabrication and foundry work for 36 years. We are equipped to build and repair almost any piece of farm machinery used, whether you grow general agricultural products, nuts, fruit, mint, hops or any other specialty. Our job estimates are reliable and our work is guaranteed.
