Wave of Thefts Continues with 3 Burglaries

The current wave of burglaries in Salem continued Monday night when three Hollywood district businesses were entered and looted of more than $450 in checks and cash, city police reported Tuesday.

Detective Hobart Kiggins, who investigated the thefts said a total of $450, including checks and cash was stolen from the office of the Oregon Feed and Supply company, 2700 Portland rd.

Also prowled was the Bishop Electric company, next door, where $455 was taken from a stamp box. The third burglary occurred at the B & E Lumber company, 25 Lana ave., where a $1 bill and a few pennies were reported missing.

Detectives Tuesday were still searching for thieves who broke into six offices in two downtown buildings last week. They reported a total of $48 missing from Oregon and Ladd & Bush bank building offices.

Detectives said about $20 was taken from the Cascade Boy Scout area offices and $18 from the Merchant's Credit bureau. Both in the Ladd & Bush building. In the Oregon building the thieves took a small amount in coins from a box at Camp Fire Girls' offices, but got nothing when they attempted to jimmy money boxes in the offices of the Oregon State Employees association and Kathryn's Beauty shop, police said.

The burglars also entered the Community Chest office in the Ladd & Bush building, but it was not determined whether anything was missing. An unsuccessful attempt was made in the same building to enter the office of E. K. Phasick, attorney.

The entries in the Ladd & Bush building, all were made with "jimmies." Police said the thieves may have used keys at the Oregon building because they were unable to find marks around the office doors.

Bishop Dagwell Gives Religious Talk to Kiwanis

More response to religion is often received from those who are in trouble than from the cushioned seats of the churches or the well loaded tables of service clubs," the Rt. Rev. Benjamin D. Dagwell, Oregon Episcopal bishop, said in a Holy week talk at Salem Kiwanis club Tuesday noon in the Marion hotel.

It is necessary to remember that Jesus Christ taught the way for nations to get along with one another as well as for individuals, the Oregon churchman said. Referring to the recent supreme court decision which affects teaching of the Bible in public schools, Bishop Dagwell said he was inclined to be satisfied with it. He went on to express the hope that the time might come when students would have the opportunity to study the Bible as liberals.

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. George Swift, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Salem.

Jaycees Hear Rev. Stewart

"Human beings today need a dynamic push toward a new awareness of God's reality," the Rev. G. Hayden Stewart, pastor of the Corvallis First Christian church, told the Junior Jaycees of Commerce at a luncheon Tuesday in the Marion hotel.

The Rev. Mr. Stewart's speech was arranged for by the Salem Municipal association as a part of their Holy week program.

Proceeding from the luncheon, Jaycees vice president, announced a dinner meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at 7 p.m. Friday at the Gold Arrow restaurant.

Inspector Notes Improvement in Food Packaging

Improvement in sandwich packaging and handling in Salem was noted Tuesday by City Restaurant Inspector W. J. Quinn in a report of current activity.

A check into local distribution of sandwiches made and packaged in Portland determined that the company used no refrigeration, but Quinn's investigation has resulted in refrigeration in the Portland plant and on the trucks delivering sandwiches to Salem.

Quinn reported that 39 local restaurants now have "A" cards, 14 "B" and 1 "C." There are 90 sandwich-layers, cannery, cafeteria and miscellaneous small establishments which are not graded under city restaurant law.
