Miss Nancy Hoak Tells Betrothal

Adding their names to the list of engaged couples are Miss Nancy Hoak and Merle Aldo Akesson, who told friends this weekend of their betrothal. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar S. Hoak of Portland and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Akesson of Clackamas. The wedding is planned for mid-August.

The news was first told Sunday at a supper party at the Hoak home in Portland and Monday night the couple announced their engagement at dinner at the State School of the Blind where both are employed. The theme was "The Cat is Out of the Bag" and napkins bearing the names of the couple were at each place. Miniature animals with tags and cartoons carried out the decorative scheme.

Miss Hoak is a graduate of Willamette university and a member of Delta Gamma sorority. She was editor of the year book, Wallowah. She is now assistant director of music at the blind school. Her fiance is a junior at Willamette university and during the war served in the army. He is a reader at the blind school, where the couple first met.

Miss Cole A Bride

At a 3 o'clock ceremony Easter Sunday at the First Presbyterian church Miss Barbara Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Cole, became the bride of Neil K. Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elisworth C. Hamilton, both of Salem.

Dr. Chester W. Hamblin performed the double ring ceremony. Baskets of pink and white snapdragons decorated the altar. Bertrum Strup was the soloist and Mrs. Ralph Dobbs the organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a slipper satin gown with yoke of seed pearls. The fingertip veil of tulle was caught with a seed pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations, tulips and hydrangeas.

Miss Betty Lou Jones was her maid of honor. Her gown was aqua taffeta and she wore a short matching veil arranged from a bandeau. She carried a pastel colonial bouquet. Mrs. Darrell Gemmill, cousin of the bride, and Miss Carol Cole, younger sister of the bride, were bridesmaid and junior bridesmaid. Their gowns were peach net over chiffon with short matching veils arranged from bandeaus and they carried colonial bouquets.

Bruce Hamilton served as best man for his brother and ushers were Darrell Gemmill, LeRoy Berger and Larry Kimpfe, Jr.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cole wore a gray suit with red and white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a slipper satin gown with yoke of seed pearls. The fingertip veil of tulle was caught with a seed pearl crown. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations, tulips and hydrangeas.

The reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Joseph Sparks cut the cake and Mrs. Norman Ferrell served the ices. Mrs. Laura Grabenhorst presided at the coffee urn. Mrs. T. H. Lang, aunt of the bride, and Miss Iris Proutfit, presided.

For going away the bride wore a gray suit with red accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds and carnations. After a honeymoon trip to the coast the couple will make their home in Salem.

Keeping the Silverware Shiny Said To Be a Matter of Habit, Easier Too

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Women's Editor

It's one thing to have nice china, silverware and utensils in the home, and it's another to keep them nice. Silverware loses its glamorous look very quickly when allowed to go uncare for even when put away carefully. Correct cleaning of silver is very important in keeping it as near new as possible. A few inexpensive accessories will aid materially in making the duty of cleaning the silver more pleasant. A box or basket containing an old toothbrush, orange stick, soft cloth and a jar of cream polish should be kept handy. A soft cloth slightly moistened is best to apply the silver cream on the plain portions of the silver; a brush is necessary in some of the ornaments portions. Rub on the polish lengthwise of the pieces, and when clean, rinse in hot soapy water, then in clear water and dry thoroughly. Finish off after dry with a piece of soft silk material. Pieces with handles cemented on should not be put into hot water, and this same is true of pieces with felt pads on the bottom. Another "don't" is don't use rubber gloves when polishing the

Rites Read At Church

The Bethel Baptist church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Ruth Evelyn Hobbensiefken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hobbensiefken, and LeVern C. Bell, all of Salem, on March 25 at 8 o'clock with the Rev. Gustav Rausser officiating. Miss Cleo Scheidel was the soloist and Miss Jean Rausser the organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dusty pink suit with navy blue hat and accessories. She carried an orchid. Miss Fern Hobbensiefken was her sister's honor maid and wore a blue suit with grey accessories and carried pink and white roses. Roy Bell was his brother's best man and ushers were Leonard Scharm, Leonard Davies and Gordon Hostetter.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Hobbensiefken wore a royal blue dress with black accessories. Mrs. Bell attended the rites in a black ensemble with white accessories. Their corsages were of red roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors after the nuptials. Mrs. Ernie Engwall of Seattle, sister of the groom, presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. A. K. Hamer cut the cake. Assisting were Misses Mary Taylor, Dorothy Baue, Ella Mae Davenport and Mrs. Roy Bell.

The newlyweds have returned from their honeymoon and are now at home in West Salem at 1124 3rd street. Mr. Bell is a teller at Ladd and Bush branch, United States National bank.
