The children, Tsaldaris said, were being spirited away to Belgrade, Sofia, Bucharest, Budapest and Tirana as part of a campaign to spread terror in Greece.

Air Force Opens Enlistment Drive, Quota Abandoned

Enlistments to the air force, which were recently limited to 50 a month from the Oregon district, have been thrown open to all young men who can qualify, Lt. Col. Howard Helliesen, commander of the Salem army recruiting office, said Tuesday.

Helliesen's announcement followed news from Washington, D.C. that the air force had decided on a recruiting drive for 25,000 men. He noted that a majority of men seeking enlistment at the Salem office prefer the air force.

Veterans as well as men without prior military service are eligible, Helliesen said, and he indicated that when the overall air force strength reaches 337,000 from its present 312,000, recruiting will go back to a limited quota again.

The eldest of the Roosevelt sons came here, as chairman of the democratic state committee, to speak tonight on the announced subject "President Truman."

"It would be better," he said in an interview prior to the talk, "to change that (the subject) to the democratic party."
