Leslie Jarvis Has Birthday

Leslie Ann Jarvis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jarvis, celebrated her second birthday with a party for her young friends at her home, 15 Tess ave., Saturday, at 3 p.m.

Spring flowers were used for decoration and favors and individual birthday cakes were served to guests. Guests were Mrs. Carl Schwab and daughters, Diane and Jody of West Salem, Mrs. R. W. Sandstrom and son, Gary, Mrs. Raymond Housley and son, Jens, and Mrs. B. R. Maxwell and daughter, Bonnie, all of Salem.

To Plan for Dinner

American Legion auxiliary, unit 136, will meet tonight at the Legion hall at 8 o'clock with Mrs. Harold Streeter presiding. Plans will be made for the spring frolic and dinner of Legion Post 136 on April 20. The telephone committee, Mrs. Edward Klippert, chairman, Mrs. Donald Rasmussen and Mrs. Clyde Beatty, are calling for volunteer workers for the dinner.

Finance committee of the Salem BPW club with Mrs. John E. Versteeg, chairman, will meet tonight at the Salem Woman's clubhouse at 7:30 o'clock preceding the club's recreational party. Plans will be discussed for the May meeting and a benefit card party.

House Action Aid to Oregon

State highway engineer R. H. Baldock expressed satisfaction Monday when advised that the U. S. house of representatives had authorized $300,000,000 of federal highway aid funds for road construction in the states.

Under this authorization, if finally approved by congress, the state of Oregon would receive $7,000,000 of federal aid funds annually against which the state would match $5,000,000. Baldock said it previously was feared that the authorization would be reduced in the house.

With a continuance of the current federal highway aid act, Oregon's road construction program can be continued on its present level as approved by the state highway commission," Baldock declared.

Activities Widely Variant at Summer Camps for Salem Youth

Spring may not be in the air, but the approach of summer camping programs is being widely heralded this week by social agencies and churches of Salem in connection with "Let's Go Camping week." Boys demonstrating their prowess in ball battle (at the YMCA's Camp Silver Creek last summer) are Dennis Felke (left) and Jim Michaels, while Martin Nelson looks on. Girls pictured at a YWCA dormitory cabin at Camp Crestwood (from last summer) are Marilyn Everly, standing, and from the top of the ladder dance, Beverly Vincent, Sophie Polales, Jay Brown, Vivian Chance, Reva Jones, Margie Cummings, Mary Nopp and Florene Steckley.

Dozen Sites to Lure Hundreds Of Salem Younger Generation

Camping days that will provide an outing experience for more than 2,500 Salem boys and girls this summer is the subject of "Let's Go Camping Week" now underway.

Salem Council of Social Agencies is sponsoring the program in order to inform youngsters and their parents of facilities available and what agencies should be contacted for camping.

At least a half dozen members of the council sponsor camps, and a half dozen churches also provide facilities. These date as far back as the turn of the century, though local camping took a rapid spurt during the '20s.

Busy All Summer
One of the most active areas is Camp Silver Creek, east of Salem, operated all summer by the local YMCA. The camp has been going for 11 years, although the YM has operated camps since 1921, and takes care of about 1,300, including some separate groups.

The Boy Scouts' Camp Pioneer, at the foot of Mt. Jefferson, handles 750 boys during five weeks.

The number is expected to be about 450 during three weeks this summer.

The Methodist churches have about 150 Salem youth attending five outing weeks at two areas, Camp Magruder on the coast and Suttle lake in the Cascades. The latter has been going for about two decades.

Four Decades of Camping
Probably the oldest camping group here is the Evangelical United Brethren church, which had grounds at Quinaby about 1900. Now about 125 from Salem attend the one-week family outing at Jennings Lodge.

From the Christian churches here nearly 100 youths attend a four-week camp at Turner.

Five weeks are available at the state camp near Molalla for Congregational youth, about 30 of whom go from Salem.

In addition, a number of state and regional interdenominational camps draw several from Salem each year.

This week's program will include camp movies in all elementary schools, posters and window displays and radio skits. Gus Moore, YMCA, is general chairman, assisted by John Gardner, YM, Mrs. Esther Little, YWCA, and Jerry Scott, Boy Scouts.

Plasterers Planning NW Session Here

The Northwest Plasterers' conference for May will be held at the Marion hotel in Salem Friday, May 14, it was announced Monday by Charles Norton, member of the Oregon Plasterers' association and chairman of the forthcoming session, here.

The conference, a monthly affair, will be attended by at least 40 persons from outside of Salem and a score of local residents, Norton said, and will include representatives of manufacturers, retailers, lathing and plastering contractors, and the plasterers' unions.

Insure Against All Risks

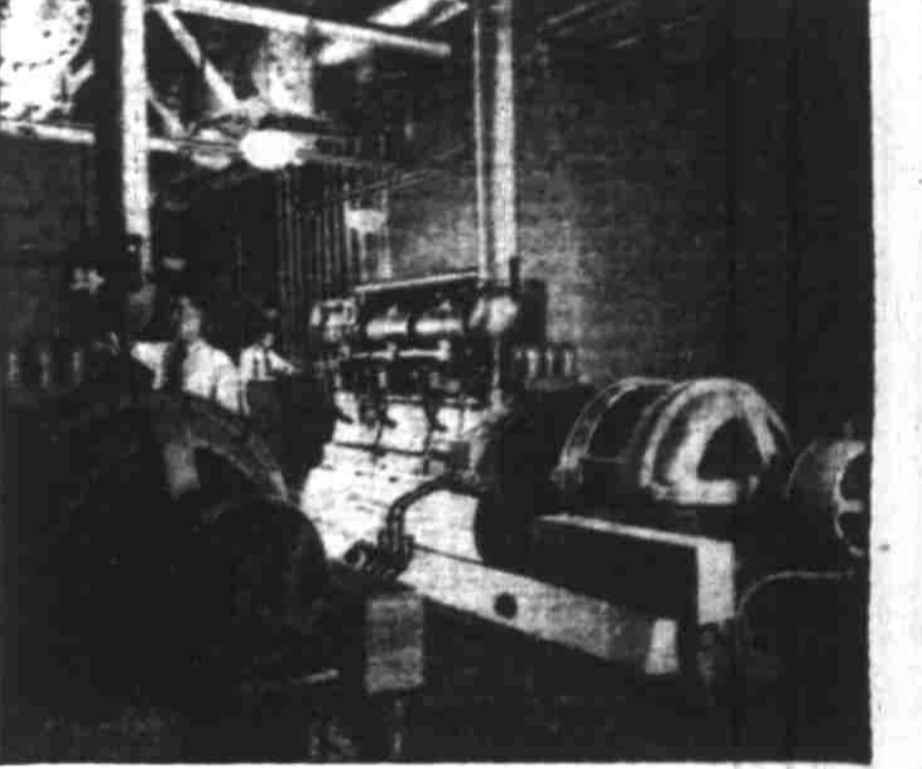

Title insurance is just as vital as fire insurance in protecting your investment in real property. You don't expect to use either... but you can't afford to take chances. A Title and Trust Company title insurance policy assures you of protection should your title be challenged and indemnifies you in case of loss.

CAPITAL, SURPLUS AND RESERVES OVER $1,500,000

HOW WE GIVE YOUR VOICE A "LIFT"

1. It takes power, and lots of it, to push millions of telephone calls through our complex equipment every day. We buy our electricity, as you do, from public service sources. But to make sure calls keep going through in emergencies, we have many motor-driven standby generators to supply our own power when necessary.

2. Giant batteries...or many smaller ones...catch the "juice" and release it as the direct current that sends your voice over our system. The number of calls we're handling today makes even these huge reserves run down quickly. They must be charged continually from public power sources or our own emergency generators.

3. When you pick up your telephone, you put electricity to work as it gives your voice a lift along wires and through switching panels. It takes little power to handle one call. But handling millions takes a lot. It makes us one of the West's big users of electricity. And it all adds up as part of our cost of furnishing telephone service.

4. Your telephone is more valuable today than ever before. For since 1940, telephones on the Coast have increased 75%. Today you can reach more people...more people can get in touch with you. Each new telephone added makes your telephone a more valuable servant.
