Senators Home for Final Training; Peterson Arrives, Added to Lineup

By JERRY STONE

Too bad: That Salem's Senators, so terribly hindered in their spring training period by the lousy weather, couldn't have had the benefit of some of that California sunshine. And why not? The parent Portland Beavers' Riverside camp, now vacated for two weeks, would have filled the Solon bill to perfection. It would have meant some additional financial outlay on the part of said Beavers but then wouldn't the dollars have been well spent? After all the Portlanders do have quite a bit to lose or gain in some of the lads within the Senator ranks. . . .

They sometimes say that a man has a better chance to be remembered if he passes from the scene when his career is in full bloom. The name and deeds are better linked together. Perhaps so with Jock. He was one of the giants of the grid world in the late '30s when his Pittsburgh Panthers were rolling to impressive records. After the Pitts demoralized football the spotlight shifted from Sutherland and he had not really regained the pinnacle since then. There are those who would claim that Knute Rockne's establishment as a grid immortal was enhanced from the very fact that the tragic Kansas plane crash came at the height of his fame. To the script writer it could have been the final and appropriate dramatic touch — a Wagnerian climax. . . .

Burns Close to Record

Bobby Burns' golfing 66 in Elks medal play was of course the big news on the local golf front last weekend. As far as we are able to determine, the SGC record for 18 holes is 64. Tony Painter racked that smart figure up six or seven years ago — and with the 4 and 5 holes playing across the water. Nonetheless, Burns' performance was a brilliant one and virtually clinches Elks medal honors for him even though some of the rep boys have yet to qualify. Incidentally, Club Pro Joe Steiger, also notched a 66 a few weeks ago. . . .

'Spring' Action Planned

Hopeful for a seige of that all-most forgotten friend, sunshine, school athletic outfits are booked for a heavy schedule of spring sports the rest of the week. So far only Vern Gilmore's Salem high track and field team has been able to get in any regular excursions, and almost all of them were held under goosy conditions. The Gilmores, plus outstanding blinicians from a few of the other prep schools in this region, take to Eugene Friday and Saturday for the annual Hayward Relays. Coach Harold Hauk's baseballers, with hardly a good workout under their belts, let alone a game, open Big Six league play Thursday 7 p.m., with Eugene at Olinger field. Johnny Lewis Bearcats hope to get in a Friday afternoon doubleheader with Bob Knox' Oregon College of Education Wolves at Monmouth. Jerry Lillie's WU track team expects to inaugurate its season Saturday afternoon in a meet with Lewis & Clark college on Salem high's Olinger field. The Marion county Big league baseball clubs have a full round set for Friday, Sublimity at Turner, Mill City at Hubbard, Chemawa at Aumsville and Gervais at St. Paul. The opening round of the Marion-Folk baseball league is set for Friday also. Sacred Heart at Independence, Salem Academy at Monmouth and Jefferson at Stayton. The Willamette Valley league hopes for its three Friday games also. Estacada at Silvertown, Dallas at Woodburn and Canby at Mt. Angel. Today at Jefferson the Aumsville, Turner, Sacred Heart, Gervais and Jefferson track teams convene in an afternoon.

Stojack Keeps Mat Toga

Big Frank Stojack still holds the Coast Junior heavyweight mat title belt today, but what a session he did have with Frankie Hart in their slam-bang main event last night at the armory. Both took a fall in the hour-long clash which some regarded as the finest grappling session they'd ever seen here, and at the bell the highly popular Hart had the former WSC football All-American on the run for another. Stojack bounced into the melee with a rush. He led off by dropping Hart, and then just 40 seconds later he had the people's choice pinned after slamming him into the ropes and then applying one of his terrific air-
