Hobby Week Proclaimed

A proclamation designating April 19 to 25 as Hobby week in Salem was issued Tuesday by Mayor R. L. Elfstrom in connection with the Rotary club's show at the armory Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Whereas, it is my desire to focus public attention upon the boys and girls and men and women of this city, to the end that more of our people be awakened to the joys and pleasures and benefits derived from working with hobbies, and to give impetus to the near-tour program of character and health building activities to all our citizens, and to further emphasize the importance and value of personal accomplishment through working with the hands at an interesting hobby or collecting non-essential objects of give pleasure, health and great personal satisfaction. Your doctors and law-enforcement agencies highly endorse the pursuit of hobbies. Scidom is a delinquent found who is busily engaged in a hobby, and parents would render a great civic service in fostering hobbies.

Now, therefore, I, Robert L. Elfstrom, Mayor of the city of Salem, do hereby proclaim April 19 through 25 as Hobby week for the city of Salem, Oregon.

And, I do hereby urge all citizens and organizations in the city of Salem to participate in the ceremonies and events constituting Salem Hobby week. And, I do hereby extend to the hobbyists the warmest welcome to the city of Salem.

Meeting Stresses Coordination Of Agencies During Disasters

Discussions on effective coordination in disaster emergencies took place Tuesday during the closing session of a two-day Oregon Red Cross disaster meeting held in Salem.

The 100 delegates present in Legion hall from chapters over the state adopted a resolution to be sent to Gov. John Hall pointing out the necessity of all state agencies coordinating during disasters such as flood, fires or other catastrophes.

Speakers who outlined the various disaster coordinating practices included Jack Hayes, state fire marshal and state disaster coordinator; Col. O. E. Walsh, district engineer; Commander Glenn Rollins of the U.S. coast guard; and M. S. Main of the U. S. weather bureau.

Dr. Ralph Purvine, of the Marion county disaster and relief chapter, led a discussion on cooperation with local public officials. Five other panels were also held on mutual aid between Red Cross disaster chapters.

Present from the Pacific area office in San Francisco were Raymond Barrows, deputy manager; Richard Gordon, disaster director; and Dr. Asa Barnes, head of the medical and health section.

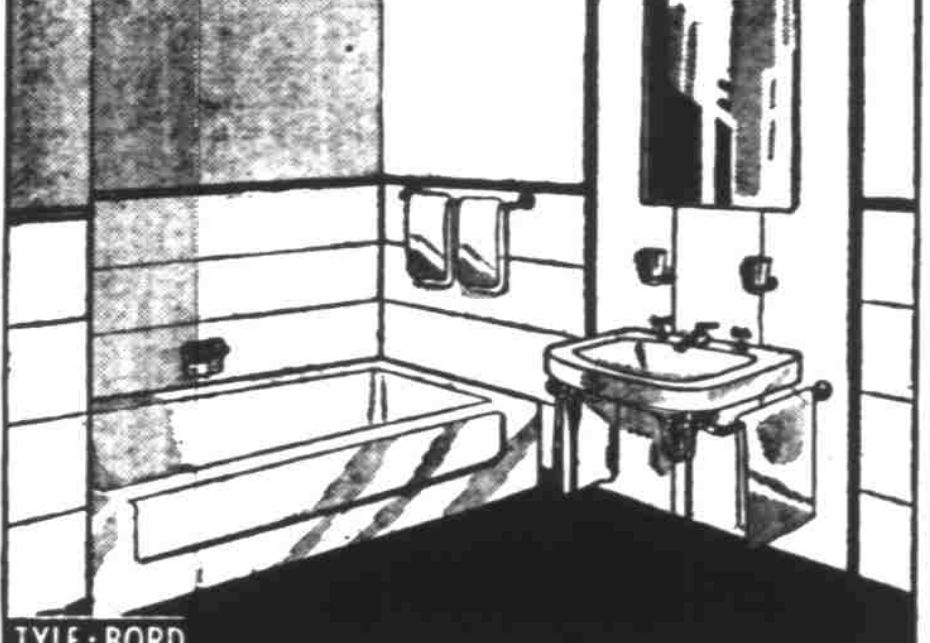

Boyd Burnside, Oregon state disaster chairman, directed the two-day conference which opened Monday in the Marion hotel. Local general chairman included I. A. DeFrance, Marion county disaster chairman and Susan Faherty, local Red Cross executive secretary.

"TYLE-BORD" the Magic Word in HOUSEKEEPING!

"TYLE-BORD" is a magic word to good housekeepers who look ahead. They realize they can have walls in their kitchens and bathrooms that need not undergo annual patching, painting or resurfacing. . . Walls as easy to keep clean as a modern refrigerator.

Because the plastic-coated surface of TYLE-BORD is baked on, it does not fade or lose its original beauty and luster. TYLE-BORD is always fresh and colorful . . . always easy to keep clean.

Vet Farm Loan Applications Rise

April applications for veterans' farm and home loans now aggregate more than $300,000 and officials predicted that applications this month would be more numerous than ever before.

Loans already approved under the loan act aggregate nearly $4,000,000 with the result that an additional $1,000,000 of bonds will have to be sold within two or three weeks. Maximum loans under the law are $4,000, based on 75 per cent of the appraised value of the property to be purchased.

Lawyers to Meet with WU Law Students

John Horton, president of the Willamette university college of law, announces that the Oregon state bar board of governors and board of bar examiners will meet with the student body at an informal banquet at the Marion hotel in the Mirror room, for the purpose of discussing with the student body the Oregon state bar, its policies and function.

Richard Wicks, Willamette law school senior, recently appointed to the teaching staff of the law school of Southern California, will preside as chairman of the meeting.

The following members of the board of bar governors are expected to attend: W. W. Baldersee, president; Lester G. Oehler, vice president; F. M. Sercombe, secretary; B. A. Green, treasurer; Warren A. McMinimer, Wallace P. Carson, S. H. Burling, Raley Peterson, Sam Van Vactor, Robert O. Boyd, Walter H. Evans, Andrew Koerner, Joseph A. McKeown and W. P. Riddelsberger.

Also the following members of the board of bar examiners are expected to attend: Lamar Toose, chairman, William S. Fort, Paul E. Geddes, Robert A. Leedy, Fletcher Rockwood, George W. Neuner, Robert W. Gilley, Wesley F. Brownson and Kenneth G. Denman.

The policy of the Oregon state bar is to convene with the various law colleges throughout the state.

The college of law faculty will attend.

He will return to the campus May 1. He will visit Roseburg, Grants Pass, Ashland, Medford, Klamath Falls, Los Angeles, San Francisco and the bay area.

Trail of Loot Provides Clues In Local Theft

A trail of small change, broken "piggy banks," discarded clothing and possibly even a stolen auto was investigated by city police Tuesday in connection with Sunday night's burglary from Cooter's home, 1549 Hickory st.

Police said Emanuel Bentz, 2705 Brooks st., reported finding a man's leather jacket in his garage can. On the ground behind his house he and police found the two broken banks taken from the Cooter residence. Though they had contained about $35, police found only about $3 in dimes, nickels and pennies on the Bentz lawn where they had been dropped in the getaway.

Evidently the result of a switch to night's burglary from Cooter, two pair of pants and two shirts were found abandoned near the driveway at 1454 Hickory st. by Garry Greene. Marks on the clothing led police to believe the burglars are from the Seattle area.

Police believe also that they left Salem in the car which Robert L. Smith of Independence reported stolen Sunday night from 1165 Spruce st., in the same neighborhood, and which state police found abandoned in Bend Monday night.

And Jim Downs, 2765 Portland rd., told police he thought the burglars used a crowbar taken from his garage to break into the Cooter house.
