Today's subject: James Garvin (r) Candidate for Salem Constable

James Garvin is among the many residents who came to Marion county as a result of the war. A war veteran, he married a Salem girl while in the army and established a permanent home here after he and Mrs. Garvin, an army nurse, were discharged.

Prior to his war service, Garvin spent 15 years in police work, mostly in New York. He came here well recommended. He has since served two years as a local deputy sheriff.

His long years in public service make him eminently qualified for the office of constable.

Four years' residence in Marion county and his work as a sheriff's deputy have given him full acquaintance with the area and because of his experience, he needs no training for the job of constable. He knows what is required and how to do the work.

A member of the American Legion, James Garvin has served the post capably and willingly in the interests of the community.

For efficient performance, the office of constable requires a man who knows precisely what to do and how to do it, and it also requires a man who will devote all his time to the job. James Garvin is a man who can and would do the job with competence and dependability.

Your support of his candidacy is respectfully solicited. He makes the following statement for your consideration:

Marion county is my adopted home. The home of Mrs. Garvin and her parents. It is here that we are raising our family. I am interested in public service as a veteran and an American who wants clean politics and efficient government. For only so long as such conditions prevail can we all have a decent place to live and raise our youngsters.
