

Health Awards Issued in 4-H Spring Show

(Story also on page 1) Winners of health awards in the annual Marion county 4-H spring show were announced Friday as the event went into its third day. Eighty health clubs from more than 50 Marion county schools and more than 2,083 members participated in the contest.

Upper division winners were Lucille Hammer, Fruitland, safety, and grand champion of the upper division; Bobby Hannick, Pioneer, nutrition; Paul Edwards, Woodburn, exercise, and the Butteville school as a group cleanliness.

Lower division champions were Bob Harris of Looney Butte, rest; Noel Martin, Keizer, exercise; David Olin, Prospect, rest, champion and grand champion of lower division; Patricia Wohl, Butteville, safety; Angelo Krupicha, Butteville, safety; and Bobby Jeskey, Aurora, recreation.

Other winners announced Friday included champions in cake baking, homemaking demonstration and sewing.

Jeanette Gilmour of Sidney took first honors in cake baking among 26 who competed. Arlene Dummer of Mt. Angel placed second; Loris Larson of Union school, third and Jeanne Fabry of Middle Grove, received honorable mention.

Janice Swarthout and Marjorie Fredericks, Macleay, took first in the homemaking demonstration; Farrell Williams and Marian Rods of Mt. Angel were second and Barbara Lacy and Frances Dieker, also of Mt. Angel, third.

Bernita Jeskey of Aurora was declared champion in the sewing contest, last of the three-day series held at the Portland Gas and Coke Co. auditorium. Doris Lane of Liberty received a blue ribbon.

Strike Halts Most Mill Operations

Although most employes at the Oregon Pulp and Paper company's lumber division in Salem have been idle for over a week by a strike of CIO boommen, a night crew is still cutting pulp logs at the sawmill for use in the pulp plant, according to E. A. Linden, division manager.

Linden said Thursday that approximately 150 men in the lumber division were laid off by the lack of logs. The crew cutting logs for pulp production comprises about 20 men.

Selling Clips Grain Gains

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—An increase in selling near the close eliminated early gains in corn and oats while shaving wheat advances today.

The market was higher most of the session with May contracts showing the best gains. Buying was based largely on threat of a railroad strike, as was the case in yesterday's upturn. This caused some nervousness among shorts in all nearby months.

Late in the day there were some official expressions of optimism over the possibility of avoiding the strike. Buying dried up and the market drifted lower.

Wheat closed unchanged to 2 cents higher, May $2.46 3/4-2.47; corn was unchanged to a cent lower, May $2.21-2.21 1/4; oats were 1/2-3/4 lower, May $1.10 1/2-3/4, and soybeans were 1/4 lower to 2 cents higher, May $4.04.

Crew Addresses Voters' Pamphlet For City Election

City voter's pamphlets are being addressed at Marion county courthouse by a crew of five women, City Recorder Alfred Mundt announced Thursday. He said the pamphlets will be put in the mail shortly before the May 10 mailing deadline.

Mundt pointed out that registration of Salem city voters for the May 21 special city election, coincided with the state primary, is 38 per cent higher than registration at the October, 1947, special election. Salem accounts for 18,821 of the county's just-closed registration of 38,982.

Salem voters will cast ballots on an $815,000 sewage disposal plant bond issue, annexation of an area southeast of the city and election of mayor, treasurer, city judge and four aldermen (the latter by their respective wards).

Rather Collect Than Pay Taxes? Jobs Now Open

If you want to collect taxes instead of just pay them, you can apply for internal revenue jobs now open in the Pacific northwest.

U. S. civil service announced Thursday that written examinations soon will be given to applicants for some deputy collector and office auditor positions. Starting salary for both is $2,644 a year. The civil service office at Salem postoffice has details of the openings.

Auto Phone Network to Start Monday

Telephone calls to and from motor vehicles travelling along most of the streets and highways in the Willamette valley from Portland as far south as Cottage Grove will be possible for the first time Monday, according to E. A. Lindgren, Salem manager for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company.

At that time Oregon's first highway mobile telephone service will be placed in operation. A combined transmitter and receiver station has been constructed in the Prospect district, about seven miles southwest of Salem. Similar stations are located at Eugene and Portland, and together they will "cover" a strip roughly 15 or more miles wide on each side of highways 99-E and 99-W.

Frequencies to be used for the highway system will be in the 30-44 megacycle band. Equipment may be provided and installed in the vehicle either by the telephone company or by the mobile customer.

Special operators stationed in the telephone building will handle switching of calls to and from mobile units. A call from a fixed telephone to a car or truck equipped for mobile service is relayed over land lines to the transmitter station. From there it goes out by radio to the called vehicle and operates the lamp and bell signals on the instrument panel. If the vehicle is unattended, the lamp will remain lighted until the driver returns and checks with the mobile operator.

Calls from a vehicle to a fixed telephone or another vehicle are made in much the same manner, in reverse.

Rose Show Set June 12, 13

The Salem Rose society will hold its annual rose show in the Salem armory on Saturday and Sunday, June 12 and 13, it was announced Thursday night at a meeting of the society's board of directors.

Dr. Earl A. Benbow, Dallas, society president, presided at the meeting. The group also disclosed that the "Peace" rose has been chosen as the special rose of the show. Ollie Schendel is chairman of the event. Competition will be open to all amateur rose growers, it was announced.

Gar Hurley, Portland rose expert, will be featured speaker at the society's next regular meeting in the Salem YMCA Thursday, May 20. Hurley will discuss preparation of roses for the annual show.

Legal Test Due for Split-Income Law

PORTLAND, April 29 (AP)—The probability of a legislative attempt to repeal Oregon's new community property law grew stronger today.

State Sen. Irving Rand, who led opposition to the community property law when it was passed by the 1947 legislature, expressed confidence that repeal attempts would be made.

Its purpose was to enable husband and wife to divide their income for tax purposes -- a saving in many cases. The new federal tax bill, however, also authorizes such a division.

Opponents of the community property law will argue that it is no longer necessary.

Hubbard School Vote Slated May 28

A second election on the proposed establishment of a Hubbard area union high school district will be conducted May 28 in the six district involved, the Marion county district boundary board decided Thursday.

Received at the hearing were remonstrance petitions bearing more than 50 names from the White, Aurora, Broadacres and Butteville districts. Other areas involved are Donald and Hubbard.

A similar proposal was defeated by the same districts several months ago.

'Silver Falls' Backers Out to Delete 'Creek'

SILVERTOWN, Ore., April 29 (Special)—An effort was underway here today toward more widespread use of the dedicated title "Silver Falls State Park."

The movement began with this week's meeting of the Silvertown Chamber of Commerce, when Dr. F. A. Lear, chamber road-committee chairman, was delegated to marshal a group for appearance before the state highway commission to protest recent inclusion of the word "creek" in the park's name.

The action was taken after members agreed that the name "Silver Creek Falls State park," as it appeared recently on maps, was detrimental to promotion efforts which are now directed to furthering the slogan: "Silverton, the Gateway to Silver Falls State Park."

The problem was brought before the chamber by M. G. Gunderson and June Drake, the chamber committee charged with publishing descriptive folders.

S. H. Boardman, superintendent of state parks, confirmed in Salem Thursday that the name actually was "Silver Falls State Park" by action of the state highway commission on Dec. 3, 1931.

YMCA Banquet Ready Tonight

The first revival of the annual YMCA sports banquet is set for tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the 'Y'. Dr. L. E. Barrick will be master of ceremonies, and principal speakers will be Jerry Little and Johnny Lewis, Willamette university coaches. Dinner arrangements have been made by C. A. Page and Carlton Greider, co-chairmen of the physical department committee. Numerous reservations have been made for the occasion.

Various awards are to be made during the program. Team awards to be made include those to winners of the Church basketball league—First Baptist, Calvary Baptist, Wesleyan, First Evangelical, United Brethren and Deaf; the varsity volleyball team which won the Northwest B journey; YMCA basketball teams, of which the juniors are district champions; and the Page Woollens cage team which won a league title in Portland. Individual awards are to be made to winners in the recent football shooting tourney, badminton players, wrestlers and persons active in promoting and directing sports.

School District Change Defeated

ST. PAUL, April 29—Attempt of four districts to withdraw from St. Paul Union high school district 3, was defeated in an election here tonight, 114 to 246. Districts which sought to withdraw are Arbor Grove, Champeog, Mahony and Raybell. These districts have been part of the union high school district for 24 years. Seventeen votes were challenged and were sealed and not counted. These will be referred to the county boundary board.

An election May 5 will decide the site for the new high school.

Hiroshi Kaneko Sues for 1942 Crop Profits

Suit for an order for distribution of an alleged $30,000 in 1942 profits, from crops owned by wartime evacuees from land near Brooks, was filed here Thursday by Hiroshi Kaneko, one of the Japanese evacuees.

The suit in Marion county circuit court, names Ronald E. Jones and the Lashby Celery Growers Cooperative association as defendants. The complaint alleges that the plaintiffs and other evacuees were in 1942 tenants of farm lands owned by Jones. Early in that crop year they were evacuated from the coast under wartime security measures.

The complaint states that in order to conserve their interest, the evacuees gave power of attorney to the association to farm and harvest their crops, with its compensation to be one-half the net profit, and that Jones consented to such agreement.

Kaneko alleges that the association's share of the profit was $36,851.29, from which he and his harvest their crops, with its compensation to be one-half the net profit, and that Jones consented to such agreement.

The suit asks a decree for return of the money plus interest and for an accounting between association and the evacuees for their pro rata shares.

Tax Test Suit Set May 14

Trial of the test suit regarding use of the state's surplus from income tax and corporate excise tax revenues will be May 14 at 1:30 p. m., Circuit Judge George R. Duncan of Marion county announced Thursday. It is expected to take only about one-half day for arguments and filing of briefs.

The suit, brought by former governor Charles A. Sprague against the state tax commission, seeks to enjoin that body from using such surplus as part of the general fund.

The suit grew out of Attorney General George Neuner's recent opinion that the surplus could be included in the general fund.
