

Miss Patricia Riches to Wed Albert Lindbeck, News Told at Tea

Wedding bells will ring on June 18 for Miss Patricia Riches, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thomas Riches, and Albert W. Lindbeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lindbeck. The exciting engagement news was told Thursday afternoon at a beautifully arranged tea for which the bride-elect's mother was hostess in compliment to Mrs. Estes L. Morton, a newcomer in the capital, who recently moved here from Hood River.

Several hundred guests called at the Riches' home on North Summer street between 3 and 6 o'clock. Sally Schenk greeted guests at the door and passed individual blue scrolls bearing the names of the engaged duo, written to the music of "Loves Old Sweet Song." Mrs. R. H. Baldock and Mrs. Rowell Beach of Portland introduced to the receiving line which included Mrs. Riches, Miss Riches, Mrs. Morton and Mrs. Lindbeck. For her announcement party the brunette bride-elect chose a waterfall blue dress and a pink carnation lei. Others in the receiving line also wore leis, which had been flown from Honolulu for the occasion. A stunning arrangement of cherry and crab apple blossoms was used in the foyer for a background for the receiving line.

On the mantle was a bouquet of pink snapdragons, baby gladioluses, sweet William, white Esther Reed daisies and rhododendron blossoms, flanked by deep rose tapers. The tea table was covered with an ice blue satin cloth and centered with a bouquet of ivory stock, parrot tulips, calladium leaves and bleeding hearts. On the side board was an artistic arrangement of magnolia blossoms and coral, which the Riches' had brought back with them from their recent trip to Hawaii.

Presiding at the urns were Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee, Mrs. Karl Heinlein, Mrs. Farley Mogan and Mrs. James T. Brand. Armstrong, Wendell Webb, Harry Schenk, Wallace Bonesteel, Lynn Lambeth, B. E. Owens, Richard A. Meyer, Harris Lietz and Joseph Chambers.

During the war she served in the marine corps for two years. She is now employed at the secretary of state's office. Mr. Lindbeck is a graduate of Salem high school and served in the army for three years, most of which time was spent in Alaska. He is now with Zellerbach Paper Co. The couple will make their home in Salem following their marriage.

Roll Your Own

Versatile Yeast Dough Has Many Uses And Proves Simple After Mastered

By Maxine Buren
Statesman Women's Editor

Once one's mastered the art of mixing up yeast roll dough, one has a wealth of opportunity to exercise ingenuity for its use. For instance, by adding an egg to the dough, one may make very fine spicy coffee cake. Add 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 cup raisins and an extra 2 tablespoons of sugar and let rise first time. Spread in a 9-inch pan, prick dough with fork, brush with melted butter. Mix 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 cup flour, 1/4 cup nutmeats, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg and sprinkle over top of dough. Let rise and bake at 375 degrees for 30 minutes.

Another variation is orange rolls. Roll out the once-risen dough to a rectangle, shape and spread with orange marmalade, roll up like jelly roll, cut in slices, place cut side down in greased pan of muffin tins and let rise until double in bulk. Bake at 350 degrees. One can make a variation of rolls by grating a cup of cheese into the dough before allowing it to rise the first time. Bake in a ring mold. Regular rolls may be put into a pan over a mixture of nuts, corn syrup and spices and made into luscious sweet bread. We once knew a woman who made 12 different breads from plain dough—and were they good. Though all can't be recalled at the moment, her repertoire included plain, twists, cinnamon bread, bearclaws, butterhorns, cinnamon-filled rolls, cloverleaf, parkerhouse and sweet egg rolls, coffee bread, Swedish tea ring and one other. Icebox dough is a lovely thing to know about, but a bit hard on the family's waistline. Any good cookbook will tell you how.
