Unemployment Reserve Fund At $80 Million

With employment up 3 to 4 per cent and payrolls 10 to 12 per cent higher during the opening quarter of 1948, Oregon's unemployment reserve fund approached $80,000,000 early in May, state unemployment compensation commission officials reported here Thursday.

This is an increase of approximately $7,000,000 in the past year and the highest in the 12-year history of the commission.

Officials said by the time collections on all four quarters of the 1948 payroll taxes have been completed next February, the fund will be well past $85,000,000 if present economic conditions continue. On May 7 it was $79,825,000.

Despite lower average taxes as the result of experience rating changes by the 1947 legislature, collections during the first 37 days of the second quarter were nearly $200,000 higher than for the same period last year.
