Girls League Elects
Barbara Wagness, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wagness, 2090 S. Commercial st., was elected president of the Leslie Girls' league yesterday, defeating Marjorie Little.

Other officers elected for the fall are: Ottilie Grieve, vice president; Julie Miller, secretary; Donna Vogt, treasurer; Jean Smith, sergeant-at-arms; Pat Deeney, song leader and Luan Chandler, yell leader.

Defeated candidates were, for vice president, Pat Rath; secretary, Barbara Klunder; treasurer, Rosellie Howland; sergeant-at-arms, Marvel Myers; song leader, Arda Lien and yell leader, Glenra Allmer.

Mothers Feted
Between 150 and 175 mothers attended the 20th annual Mothers' program at Leslie junior high school Wednesday. The affair, sponsored by the Girls' league, was under the direction of Mrs. Madeline Hume.

Included in the program were numbers by Sandra Nordyke, Doris Helen Spaulding, Laurel Herr, Judy Wood, Lela Mae Kratter, Sidney Kromer, Marie Marquardt, Norma Hamilton, Jean Small, Shirley Brockart, Maureen Gustafson and Mary Ann Wall. Mrs. Hanna gave a brief word of welcome to the mothers. Refreshments were served after the program.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

Club Elects
The Spanish club at Salem high school has announced the following slate of officers elected to serve next fall: president, Martha Durham; vice-president, Jane Ashford; secretary, Charlene Webber; treasurer, Cornelia Strayer; song leader, Anita Aguilar.

Artists Excel
Two senior high school students and two grade school pupils have recently been announced as prize winners in art contests, Margaret McDevitt, art supervisor for the Salem schools, has announced.

Una Mae Grayless and Charlene Webber, high school students, received honorable mention for their entries in the national art and photography contest sponsored by Scholastic Magazine. The two pieces were judged recently in the finals at Pittsburgh after having won northwest honors at the sectional exhibit in Portland during the winter. Una Mae's entry was a fabric decoration, while Charlene sent in a general design.

Pamela Gertrude Clayton, grade 4, Englewood school, and Margaret Ann Bush, grade 6, Garfield school, have won prizes in the Oregon division of the Milton Bradley "America the Beautiful" crayon art contest.

The Idaho territory, which covered more than 90,000 square miles, had only a few dozen white people in its population as recently as 1860.

High School Leaders Meet Here Today

More than 100 student leaders from 30 Oregon high schools will meet in Salem today and tomorrow for the annual student government conference meeting. Roger Middleton of Salem High school is conference president.

All sessions of the conference will be held in Salem high school, including a luncheon this noon in the school cafeteria and a banquet and dance tonight.

Middleton and E. A. Carleton, local high school principal, will greet the student officers at 10:05 a.m. following registration and a concert by Salem High's "A" band. Speakers will include Clifford Robinson of the state department of education, Friday morning; Walter Snyder of the same department, Saturday morning, and James Elliott, SHS student and state after-dinner speaking champion, at the banquet tonight.

The program otherwise will include discussion of school government issues, with each topic conducted by a separate high school group. These include: Activity program, Salem; athletic program, Medford; budget and accounting, Albany; constitutions and student officers, Dallas; handbooks and parents' books, Eugene.

Sprague to Speak On McKay's Behalf

Charles A. Sprague, former governor of Oregon and publisher of The Oregon Statesman, will speak on behalf of State Sen. Douglas McKay, republican candidate for nomination as governor, over KALE at 10 o'clock tonight.

Qualities voters should look for in choosing their governor will be discussed, and the records of McKay and Gov. John Hall, also a candidate, will be compared. Sprague will also mention some of the issues upon which the gubernatorial campaign hinge.

Fowler Constable At Breitenbush

Jay Fowler of Detroit was appointed Thursday by Marion county court as constable for the Breitenbush justice of the peace district, succeed Charles F. Stutz, who resigned earlier this month. The former constable with police departments in Wyoming and at Silverton, was endorsed in a petition bearing 58 names of residents of Detroit and Idanha.

Portland Cab Company Widens Operating Zone

Taxicab service operating within 15 miles of Portland is now permitted for Portland's Yellow Cab Co., under an order signed Thursday by John H. Carkin, state public utilities commissioner. The company had sought to operate as common carrier within 25 miles of Portland.

Court Hears Case Of Harley Borders

Arguments were presented before the Oregon supreme court Thursday in the habeas corpus proceeding of Harley A. Borders, who is seeking to obtain his release from the state penitentiary.

The Marion county circuit court previously denied a habeas corpus writ and borders appealed, asserting he is being detained in the prison unlawfully because the judgment under which he was sentenced in Clackamas county did not specify the crime charged. He is serving a five year term for larceny.

30th Anniversary Of Airmail Noted

Mayor R. L. Elfstrom Thursday urged Salem residents take cognizance of 30th anniversary of the U. S. airmail service which will be observed nationally from May 15 through 21.

"The development of the air communication system and the growth and development of air transport and the aviation industry has been equaled by no other nation in the world, and of such we are justly proud," Elfstrom said.
