

Youth Held After Chase in Stolen Auto

A Salem youth, who police said led them in a 70-mile-an-hour chase through downtown Salem early this morning before crashing a stolen car into a parked truck, faces charges of auto theft and driving while intoxicated in court today.

He is Kenneth D. Ahienkiel, 19, of 320 Elma ave. He is accused of stealing a car owned by George Bunker, Blaine hotel, from its parking place in the 200 block of Chemeketa street, police said.

Officer Verner Schmidt said he took up pursuit of the vehicle in the 100 block of South High street and chased it at speeds ranging up to 70 miles an hour through the center of town.

Schmidt said Ahienkiel failed to negotiate a turn and smashed into a Salem Navigation company truck parked in the 600 block of Trade street. The car was completely demolished on the left front side, Schmidt said.

Ahienkiel was being held in the city jail in lieu of $250 bail.

'X-Ray Telescope' to Provide Bright Image of Bodily Organs

NEW YORK, May 19 (AP)—An "X-ray telescope" announced today promises to give doctors living movies telling scores of things about the human body that they couldn't see before.

In effect it nearly brings sunlight into the human body. It can make X-ray images on a fluorescent screen 500 times brighter than they now are, Westinghouse research laboratories scientists said. It was developed by Dr. John W. Coltman, 32-year-old physicist.

This tremendous brightness is the exciting development, because it shows so much more detail about internal organs. Dr. W. Edward Chamberlain, Philadelphia physician who suggested the idea, said it would make it far easier to stop cancer and tuberculosis quickly, to study the human heart in action, and even to diagnose kidney troubles early.

Aid for Cancer
He predicted the bright pictures would make mass surveys for cancer feasible, and that doctors eventually look inside every patient in hospitals to help learn what's wrong.

A kind of telescope tube does the brightness trick. It's a telescope in the sense that it magnifies brightness.

Speeds Up Electrons
The tube picks up the X-rays after they pass through the body, and turns them into light rays and then into electrons inside the tube. The electrons then are hurled across the tube at a speed of 3,000 miles per second. They hit a fluorescent screen, and hit so hard that they make a much brighter image.

At present, X-rays themselves hit the screen being viewed by the doctor. But the image is dim. The image of the average human abdomen as it now appears has been estimated as 30,000 times dimmer than a piece of white paper viewed under a reading lamp.

Permit Close Work
Dr. Coltman said the new tube would enable physicians to make out objects separated by as little as five thousandths of an inch. X-ray photographs show considerable detail, but hundreds are needed to show the body organs in action.

Coltman said it may be possible to see images in three dimensions. And the pictures are bright enough to be transmitted on television, he said. Thus it would become technically possible for a specialist to make a diagnosis by long distance.

Milk Prices Cut in Stores Wins Support

PORTLAND, May 19 (AP)—J. L. Sinner, former president of the Oregon Milk Distributors association, broke from association policy today and declared approval of allowing stores to reduce the price of milk.

Sinner said he had come to agree with the contention of a chain of stores here that they should be permitted to sell milk one cent cheaper than milk delivered to front door steps.

Portland distributors have fought this, demanding stores not be allowed to lower their price.

Attributing his resignation as association president last Friday to his desire to speak as a private individual on the milk issue, Sinner said home delivery of milk costs more and consequently should be at a higher price.

Vivien Kellems Forced to Pay Withhold Tax

WESTPORT, Conn., May 19 (AP)—The government collected $1,685.40 from Miss Vivien Kellems today, and the critic of the withholding tax law promptly cried "Outrage!"

The government took a round-about way to get its money in the contest which began several weeks ago when Miss Kellems refused to continue paying withholding taxes and invited indictment.

First it asked Miss Kellems to pony up the sums due in income taxes on the wages of employees in her Cable Grip Manufacturing company.

"No!" replied Miss Kellems, who contends the withholding tax law is unconstitutional as well as "unjust and tyrannical."

The government then slapped a lien on her bank account.

The Westport Bank and Trust company notified the feminine industrialist this morning that it had turned over the money to the government to satisfy the lien. The sum collected represented $837.70 in withholding taxes due, a 100 per cent penalty for non-payment and $10 interest.

"Goofs" are to be dressed in at the armory Saturday at 3 p. m. Their initiation consists of street stunts until 5 p. m. when the "wreck" parade begins. Features of the parade will include a box car and locomotive from Albany, the Paul Bunyan group from Klamath Falls and stunts by 40 et 8 members.

Michael Calaba Hurt by Car

Michael Calaba, 570 Rosemont st., West Salem, suffered a painful ankle injury Wednesday afternoon when he was run over by a car driven by Allan R. Barber, 1115 S. 18th st., in the 500 block of Chemeketa street.

City police said the boy was walking along the street with his father, Jerry Calaba, when he suddenly ran into the path of Barber's auto which was backing out of the east entrance of a garage. The car knocked young Calaba to the sidewalk and the rear wheel passed over his ankle, police said.

He was treated by first aid attendants and taken to a private physician by his father. It was not determined whether his ankle was broken, attendants said.
